“ I have long lasting fond memories of Arvie as my former, boss, mentor and friend. She was an inspiration for so many - full of joy, hope and faith She had a way of making you feel special and went out of her way to help, encourage and guide others. Arvie had an innate feel for people and was a model of how to live - being grateful every day, facing tough problems with kindness, laughing and focusing on what is good, knowing the right thing to do. From her I learned not only how to be a better boss and employee but a also better person.

My deepest condolences to her family. Know that she was loved and left a legacy of positively impacting many people's lives. I know
