“ Jon, you captured the essence of Delmar. Thank you. People will never forget how a person made them feel and Delmar always made one feel welcome and wanted. Delmar was a giving person who offered his help and kindness. Delmar, your friendship lives in our hearts and you shall always be remembered.

“ I knew Delmar for 15 years through working together at Data Recognition. He was truly a wonderful person and a treasured friend. Some 10+ years ago he organized what came to be known as the "Breakfast Club" that many participated in and all enjoyed. We had those great experiences and memories because of his efforts to bring us all together. He enjoyed his time at DRC and was very well liked. He loved a good story, was a great sports fan, believed in the value of education, valued his friends, loved his family, and truly loved life. When a person's time here is done it's what you leave behind that defines who you were. For me, and I'm sure many others, Delmar made you feel welcomed, valued, and respected. I always looked forward to seeing him. In the years I knew him he never missed my birthday, a wedding anniversary, or a Christmas greeting. I appreciated that. It's how you made people feel that is your legacy, that's what you will be remembered for. I'll always remember Delmar Werner, he was my friend. Goodbye my friend, your legacy will live on in all who had the pleasure to know you. My condolences to his family.
