“ Is was nice to be able to attend this way but I had a hard time understanding a lot of the speaking. I wonder if, in the future, you could have closed caption with the video? I thank you for having it available to those that could not attend.

“ Bob Nevin's family and mine lived across the street from each other in Green Isle, MN, a small Irish (at that time) community consisting of about 300 people. Bob's dad, Spike, and my mother, Gina, were siblings. Spike owned the general store. Our families were very close, celebrating many events together. Such good times. These gatherings continued through the decades, into long after our parents died..

Bob was a very handsome fellow. One of my favorite stories was when Bob's mother, Babe, told him to "blend in". (That's how I remember the story.) Now this tall, handsome fellow could never just "blend in". He was not only handsome, he was kind, thoughtful, successful, and a wonderful family man. He truly loved his family - each and every member.

May Bob Nevin rest in peace in God's presence.

May Barbara and their family find peace and treasure their many special memories.
