“ I met Bob through his friend Kay. I found him to be a gracious, soft spoken gentleman who always had something interesting to share. He was a wealth of knowledge about a variety of topics. Rest In Peace dear man.

“ Bob was an honorary attendee at our bi-monthly Breadbreakers dinners. He regaled us with many interesting tales from his career in the trenches of the Minneapolis Public Schools. In our private conversations over dinner, Bob was always thoughtful and supportive of my own teaching experience. I will remember him fondly. (Larry and Mary Hill)
