“ Aunty some time has passed, but the tears still flow. You will so be missed. I'm glad you are not in pain anymore. I'm so glad that we got to spend time with you. Like for your birthday. I'm so glad that we were able to be there to say good bye to you and hope we comfort your family. We have shade such good memories, but now you are at peace and with your other loved ones like Mom. Please tell her what I said. Love & Hugs

“ Hi Grandma, I don't know what to say except that I hate that you had to leave us so soon, but I know that you needed to go so that you could make sure that (both) grandpa's are staying out of trouble up there! :) You will always be missed and loved by each and everyone of us! The pastor read the letter I wrote about our last few moments together. I cried hard when hearing it read out loud. This is what it said: My Grandma Agnes Elizabeth Murphy 4/1/1930 - 8/20/2011 8/20/2011 11:13am - I held your hand today, you wouldn't let go of mine, I told you I love you, I kissed your cheek, I held your great granddaughter up so that you could see her, she blew you kisses and told you that she loves you. I held your hand again and watched as two tears ran down your cheek, you took two breaths... and you were gone. I closed your eyes. :(`` You will be missed Grandma and always loved! XOXO! I LOVE YOU! Love, Kymberley

“ Please know you're all being kept close in heart at this difficult time. Because of my own health problems and that I just got home from the hospital, I will not be able to be with you but you are in my heart. Love always
