“ Alex,

I wish I had told you earlier but I want you to know you were a cherished and respected man for first and foremost you had a gentle and considerate spirit that drew me and others to want to be with you. Each time we met you were upbeat and first asked how I was doing. You put others before yourself because you were humble. You were never a braggart, always sensitive to others, though you had much to be proud of. When with others your smile and bright eyes were focused on the person speaking with you as you intently listened to them for you cared about their story and their life. Your smooth and effortless golf swing mimicked the ease of being with you. I will think of you each time I encounter a young man with a personality that lifts my spirit and those of others. I miss you and will never forget your friendship. The pain of missing you is only lessened by knowing that your spirit is now joyously and eternally united with Christ and with your mom's. Goodbye for now but I pray someday I will say hello to you standing by Christ.

Your friend,

Greg Frey

“ Alex, you will be so missed! Your life meant so much to so many! I am so sorry that this demon of anxiety and depression overcame you. Greg and I watched you grow up along with all your friends, and turn into a wonderful young man with a warm, friendly, and welcoming smile.

We are sorry to miss your send-off Alex, we will be on a long awaited trip to Israel but we will think of you, and I will pray for you where Jesus walked.

May you rest in peace Alex, in the comfort of Jesus' loving embrace.

You were a wonderful friend to many. Zach, Greg and I loved you. Say hi to your mamma for me! (And Jesus!)
