“ Joy was the consummate instructor. She taught our neuro classes in the OT program at the U of MN. Creative in her approach and committed to our understanding the material, she used every strategy possible to help us understand neurological development; this included, but was not limited to, charts, her own illustrations, color coding, dissecting brains, and demonstrations. She lit a fire in us, exciting us about neuro and OT in general. The knowledge we acquired in her courses applied to all aspects of our education, from sensory-motor development in peds, to rehabilitation, and aging.

Her smile and passion for helping us help others was contagious. Her office door was always open for words of encouragement, support, and clarification. We are grateful for her contribution to our education and our profession. I am blessed to have been one of her students.

*With gratitude,
Marlys Gapstur Sand, MA, OTR/L

“ Joy was one of my most memorable instructors in occupational therapy school. She was amazing and I learned so much from her. I vividly remember her on the stage and the laughter she instilled in all of us. She will be missed but her memory will continue.

Thoughts and prayers for the family.

*Fondly,
Terri Steinhaus (Kuczmariski)*
