“ Still expect it to be Andy when my phone rings.....we talked most every day for much of the last 20 years.

On our monthly dinner outings, Andy would discuss his love for his family, how much he appreciated Tony and Stu (his roomies) and also discuss his anxieties and how to conquer them.

Miss you Andy!

Andy will be deeply missed. I worked as his job coach out at Wales for 2 years and got to know Andy very well during that time. We often had lots of long talks about things he was feeling anxious about and he loved that I could joke around with him enough to get his mind off whatever was bothering him. I left TSE years ago, but will always cherish the time there. I would always call him MISCKOWIEC and he thought that was funny. We'd often sign to each other and other clients that they were a "slow turtle". I didn't hear of his passing until today, and I was so sad to hear this. He was such a kind, gentle soul. He always made me giggle and always had something to talk about. Deep condolences to his family.

“ In the 4 years I had the pleasure of knowing Andy he became dear to me. He was always willing to help with everything loves to smile and had the best smile. I swear he was friends with everyone wherever we went he knew someone! Let me tell you he was special to me! He would always be excited to tell me about his day or weekend always asking about my family and wanting to see new pictures of my son. He loved to listen to his music and u could always hear him sing he had no problem picking on me when I sang silly he was a kind gentle soul. I was looking through my phone and found a few pictures from over the years. I'm going to miss him as he was always by my side.

“ In the little bit of time I was able to spend with Andy I know music and cooking was 2 of his favorite things to do. He would help cook meals and bake cookies, brownies and cakes. He had his set ways of how the ingredients went into the mixing bowl, so I would let him do his thing. He would tell me how much seasoning to put in meals that were being prepped and cooked for dinner and he would stir anything and everything that was on the stove cooking. Andy I learned was a big fan of the beetles band he would sing the songs to me all the time. Andy is so loved and will be missed very much! Sending my love and prayers out to his family and any individual that knew Andy.
