“ Arlene Gable was the teacher I worked with when I did my student teaching with students who were visually impaired or totally blind at Dowling School in Minneapolis. That was in the fall of 1970! Special memories for me of a special teacher who helped me start my teaching career.

“ This memory goes back a long ways. I remember having dinner at your home on 13th Avenue in South Mpls. in the 60's when you, David, were a second grader in my class at Bancroft Elementary School. I remember your mom as a very special lady and am so sorry of learning of her passing. She and I had some special times together, usually my wanting to hear more about how you were doing and sharing our school experiences; if I remember correctly, she also worked for the school system in either special ed., vision impairment, or hearing services. Your family has remained in my memories of very special people.
