“ Some of my very early memories included being around Arnie while visiting great grandma Lekander at the farm. He made quite an impression on me because I was very young but I remember admiring him and being excited to see him. Later on in life when I was working as a mechanic, every time I would see him he would ask me to show him my hands. I'd show him and there would be grease and cuts and he'd proudly say, "ya, those are hands of a mechanic!"
