Watch over you son too. Make sure he's happy. Aden loved meeting his cousin Ryder. Bobby found it hard to believe that some day we would all be together sitting in his living room. We miss you everyday and wish you were here with us. Your birthday is on Thanksgiving this year. I hold we can have Aden, Katy and Gabe with us this year. I love you always, and thanks for the note you left in my wallet. I found it again today. Thanks for always loving me honey.Mom

“ My Daughter, Mom had a great time in Wyoming this year and she managed to get in some restful days too that she badly needed. She cleaned up the area around your site the best she could. I guess the trees and bushes there are getting bigger.. might be time for a little work with a chainsaw to open it up. It's been a rather hot and humid Summer here this year, I'm starting to look forward to the cooler Fall weather. I hope some way some how I and maybe Mom too can go grouse hunting this Fall in the same spots we did together. I'll never forget that Ash... Good Times. Mom and I think of you daily honey and we never fails to light a candle for you everyday. It still seems like yesterday to us unfortunately. I love you and miss you dearly girl. Dad

“ Hi Ash, We all went to Angie's on Memorial day. Aden finally took his first swimming strokes and stood on the bottom of the pool all by his self. Of course he had on a life jacket but for 3 years old not bad!. He was so excited. He said "I Did It! I Did It! Look Sandy I did it!" We all love him so much. We wish you were here with us to enjoy him. I miss you honey. Love Mom

Your Mom keeps me updated with him and his antics. Cracks me up! You definitely were a handful-no wonder your Mom went gray so young!!! Now with Aden she had to start dyeing her hair because it wasn't just gray it was white!!! :-)Keep watch over your Mom, Dad and Myriah. They miss you so much. “ I'm sorry honey you will be 22 this year. I'm getting old and what can I say. I forget alot these days. But never you. Your uncle Roy passed yesterday. Virginia called and told us this morning. Please tell him everyone misses him and watch over his boys for him. He was very much loved by many many people. I can't sleep tonight because I keep thinking of you. Aden did a no no last week end. Gabe left spakling on the dresser and he decided to paint himself, the crib,mattress and walls with it. Jen had a heck of a time cleaning it up. From him and the bath tub. She has my sympathy. I've been there with you when you were about his age. Only it wasn't spakling! Keep coming to see please. I need to feel you around. I love you.Mom

“ Hi honey, Well Halloween was Friday and Myriah and I took Aden with Trevor (TJ's nephew) trick or treating. Aden is getting the hang of it. He really is into his terrible two's. NO to everything! So we talked him into things. Like eating dinner before candy. He wanted to come over but I'm getting older and things aren't what they use to be for me. I have a hard time doing some things. I wish you were here to raise him. You would have been a great mommy for him. You loved him so much. I remember when you were so protective of him when he was little. But he's a tough little guy. Doesn't cry very much like you when you were little. He runs to fast for his legs and falls, then gets back up and keeps moving. He's doing very well with his potty training too. He's going to be a wonderful person. I love and miss you always. Mom

You remember how much you hated being tickled. He's the same way. So much like you in looks and laughter. He has his own back pack too. He packs all his trains and tracks up to take with him. Myriah and TJ moved into their new home yesterday too. It was a full day for all of us. She was showing your picture off to everyone yesterday. Sandy wants one too! “Happy Birthday My Daughter, Today is your Birthday Honey and Mom and I miss you terribly. We celebrated your Birthday with a cake Mom made on Thanksgiving over at Sandy and Doug's. We all sang Happy Birthday to you and it was nice to see everyone sing along. So many miss you My Girl! We will be going out to Mound today to visit you. Don't forget to be at the candle light ceremony at the Angel of Hope statue on December Th. Your whole Family will be there again Honey in your honor. I went Grouse hunting last month as I told you I would. I wished you were with me every minute I was in the woods. I 'll never forget our time together there, it was one of the best times of My life honey and I will always remember it fondly and with great love. I did get 5 Grouse, but had to work harder than expected to get them. It was somewhat strange being there knowing as I drove and walked I was looking at things your eye's once looked at also Honey. That was a little hard but still wonderful at the same time. My longing for you will never end until we are together again. I carry you in My heart daily! I miss you so! We finally got the painting Chris made of you framed and now hung in the living room. It looks great. Please continue to watch over us and Aden Honey and when you can let us know that you know okay. “ Hi Ash, It's been awhile since I've written but I remember everyday. Mom and I are planning on going up north in early October to Grouse hunt. I plan on taking her on the same trails we walked together. I'll show her where we came upon the white cows and Bull in the middle of the woods. I'll show her the trail we split up on. I sure was proud of you having the courage to take off on a trail by yourself like that in deep thick woods unfamiliar to you. The whole time away from you though I was concerned and constantly thinking and wondering if you were okay, and you blew it off like it was no big thing. There are plenty of boys that won't leave their dads side at that age. You sure had guts girl. I was talking with Myriah the other day outside in front of the little garage and she pointed to the barb wire fence below it by the swamp where I twisted the wires together so you and her could slide down the hill and go underneath them. They are still twisted and she didn't know it but I've looked at them several times before and can still see you two laughing and giggling as you went down. Those were some GREAT times eh. I thought about our place in Columbia Heights the other day and would give up everything to return there to a time I both of my little girls with me. I'm sure not looking forward to another long winter without you again Honey. I see Moms pain almost daily and I try to keep mine hidden from her as much as possible. For all I know she she's mine like I see hers. All I know is that there is this huge empty hole for both of us and nothing that can really fill it up except you. Touch Mom again and let her know Honey. I'll close for now but I will be back to write again Ash. I miss you terribly! All My Love, Dad

“ Hey Ash! Well, it was a year yesterday that you left us. So many things have happened, and so many things didn't that should of. You are missed so much. There are so many people who love you and whose hearts are still greatly saddend by your leaving. Whose lives you touched in such a way so that they will never be the same without you. I pray Ash, that you will touch them again, let them know you are still with them. Comfort them. Haven't seen Aden since his birthday party. Totally my fault-I haven't really seen your Mom, Dad or your Aunts for that matter in such a long time. It's horrible!!! I do hear from your Dad quite often via email. That always makes be smile. Saw your Mom a couple of weeks ago in passing. She looked very tired. Give her strength Ashlee. Help her get through the day, everyday. Just a whisper while she's sleeping. A soft breeze at the right moment. She needs you. Saw Mariah. She looks fabulous!!!! She seems to be doing better. Saw your Aunt Linda. The "girls" all went to Cindy's in Iowa to celebrate their "50" birthdays. It was very nice. Cindy so enjoyed being with them all. Branden's doing wonderful. Just got a caretaker's position so he and Kali will be moving next month. I just adore Kali. Wish she could have met you and visa versa! I love you Ash. I miss you. God Bless You and Keep You!

“ Baby girl Ashlee: Today is a very sad day for all of us who are still here--earthbound. You are thought of and missed everyday. I still envision seeing you up at the cabin. My fondest thought of you is when you and Katie were screaming because of the spiders. If only I had a video camera then, it was pretty funny! Your son has yet to visit me at the cabin but I'll get him there I promise. He's a very cute sweetie pie. I wish you had stayed with us. Visit me sometime. Miss ya! Love Aunt Linda

“ My Daughter Ash, A day I wished would never appear on calendars ever again is here. It's so thick today it's hard to breathe. Missing you has become something your mother and I take to bed at night and wake up with in the morning. All I want is to play another game of horse or catch with you. I can see it in my mind right now. Man those were good times, that only play out in my mind now, but I thank God for that, because that's the only way I can see you. Do you remember standing on the shores of lake Superior with me. You had never seen it before and you were so amazed. I'll never forget that day. I felt as close to a daughter as a Father could that day. I wish time and money had allowed for a few more times when it was just the two of us Honey. But I will have that day forever and ever in a very special place to bring out when I need to (like right now). I remember how you could make me laugh by the way you would say the word "poop", or you would say " don't smile, don't smile, don't smile" until I just had to. I remember you dragging home street signs for your room and your wanting to paint everything your favorite color green. It's still green Ash, and the nails are still in the window to keep you from sneaking out. Now from time to time your son takes his naps in that room. How cool is that! I could go on and on with memories but I'd trade them all to get you back. Your Mom is headed for your favorite place tomorrow, so please watch over her and bring her back safe to me Honey. And while your at it brush her face to let her know you are near. How's about a game of horse Ash. All My Love forever and ever, Dad

“ Good Morning Honey, My oh my the Lord sure has been giving us some beautiful days. Tell him thanks for me. I wish you were here to enjoy them with Aden and us. As you know your Mother is a great woman and person. I couldn't make it without her honey. Yesterday when I was working out back I couldn't help but notice the woods behind us that you and I went for walks through when you were a little girl. It gave me a warm feeling inside. I wish we could walk together again. Someday we will I have no doubt about that honey. Knowing that helps keep me going. Sometimes the going is just a crawl, but it is going if you know what I mean. We are having Aden over again this Sunday, so be sure to watch. He's a marvelous little guy that reminds us so much of you in many ways my girl. I miss you greatly MY GIRL, take care for now and I'll be back. All my LoveDaddy

“ Hey Ash!Went to Aden's b-day party yesterday, was so nice. Gabe sure is doing a nice job raising Aden. I'm sure Jennifer is a lot of help as well as your Mom and Dad (he sure knows his Grandma!!!!) It was so cute watching Aden with his birthday cake-he would take a bite and then give Daddy a bite-way too cute! He got lots of nice clothes but of course Aunt Linda's truck and Aunt Kathy's baseball, basketball and football Playskool thing were the hits. He opened the truck and immediately started pushing it and making a noise like a truck-it was hysterical!!!! I could go on and on but I'm sure you were watching over us all. Sure wish you would have been there with us.Aden sure is a happy boy!! I just can't believe how much he looks more and more like you every time I see him, it's just amazing!Myriah brought her new boyfriend, TJ. What a nice guy. Myriah looks so good, I'm so happy for her. Mom looked a bit tired but in pretty good spirits so that was nice. Kathy got her hair cut and it looks so nice! And of course Sandy always looks so glamorous-just amazes me. Linda looked great too. Barb had to work so I didn't get to see her. After the birthday party Kev, Amber and I went to meet Branden's girlfriend, Kali's parents. They are so nice and I am so happy that Branden has found someone that makes him happy and has parents that like him as he is. They are wonderful, down to earth people. It was just so nice.Well Sweetie, just wanted you to know that you were on my mind yesterday as well as every day. Sure miss you.Love ya!

“ So i was sitting in the bathroom the other day at school (you know how we both were not fans of public restrooms) and i looked over at the toilet paper and remembered a conversation we had in the bathroom once. you: "Do you use the first sheet?" me: "No, who knows whats on it.." you: "yeah me neither" and we both laughed. It made me smiled as i pulled off the first sheet of tp! I was teachin at the tech again last december and was talkin w/ filson and mckeon. Remember the time we were talking about stuff we shouldn't have and filson overheard in the hall and came in and told mckeon?? and we were both laughing so hard we couldn't breathe?? That still cracks me up. I think about you ever time i drive down restwood rd...

“ Ashlee: I think about you every day. Your mom gave me a picture of you and Aden and I keep them here with me at work. Your Uncle Tom just developed some old pictures we had and there is one with you, Myriah, and Melissa all gathered with other guests that came for the fourth of July 2005? It's pretty cute and I'll have to show your mom. Everyone is giving me (the camera man) the finger and laughing. You looked very happy whereas Myriah on the other hand looked mad. Your son is about the cutest thing I ever did see. He looks just like you and has the greatest smile. You should be very proud of him I know I am. “ Hi Ash!!! I always wondered what happens in Heaven on Christmas. Do they have a birthday celebration or what??? What a GREAT place to be to celebrate our Lord's birth!!! Celebrating our Lord's birth yesterday was wonderful. Went over to Sandy's to see your Mom and Dad and Aden. He was sleeping in your Mom's arms when we finally got there. He wouldn't wake up for anything and then Branden came over and gently rubbed Aden's ear. Aden's eyes POPPED open, he looked and a huge smile came upon him. Did you use to rub his ear? Anyway, he stayed awake and was a joy for all of us to see and be with for the short time we were there. Mom and Dad look good. Aden sure loves his Grandma and Grandpa!!! He sees either one of them and his whole face lights up!! And of course he knows they will "play"! Grandpa ran around the house with him up on his shoulders-that was really cool and Grandma got down on the floor and played. You know your Mom, she'll teach him all kinds of neat things about nature and such. And your Dad will be teaching him how to hunt, you can bet on that. But you can see the emptiness in your Mom and Dad. They miss you so much. It fades a little when Aden is with them but... That goes with Sandy and Doug too! We got some really cute pictures of Grandma, Grandpa and Aden and Aden with his Godparents, Sandy and Doug. As soon as Amber loads up her camera on the computer I'll be sending them to all of them. Well my dear, sure did miss seeing your smiling face and hearing your giggling voice. Love ya!

“ Hey Ash!!!! Mom sent me pictures of Aden sitting on Santa's lap, it is so cute. I'm sure you are looking over Aden, your Mom, Dad, Myriah and all of those who are missing you so very much right now, but it surely would be a giant help for all if you would show them that you are with them. Any sign at the right moment just for them. They are hurting so much. And ask the Big Guy up there if He would touch their hearts, hold them in the palms of His Great Hands and ease their pain. I love your family so much and it pains me to see them in such hurt. We all miss you so much! The orthopedic surgeon finally released me for my shoulder. Said I am good to go. Now we just need to find out about the legs and feet. I'm sure that once I hit the $5,000 mark they will have "some" idea. Did I tell you that I quit smoking?? I know-shock city!!!! Been almost 4 months for me. That is something extraordinare for me!!! I had been smoking for 42 years! Took that new drug call Chantix. Stuff is amazing!!!! I think that if it worked on me, can work on anyone. Really impressed me. Believe it or not I think I am done with my shopping!!! I know, shocker!!!! I'm sure I'll be out on Christmas Eve trying to pick up something, never fails. I honestly thought it got easier when the kids become adults--HA!!! Kevin always takes the easy way out, catalog shopping. I really should take some tips from him. But I kind of like the going out and dealing with all the people. Even the crabby ones- I know, been there!!!! Could have had a horrible day and really aren't that crabby normally. I love the sounds of the laughter. And it especially cracks me up when I hear parents trying to tell their kids to be still and quiet in a mall-RIGHT!!!! To them it is just a really big playground!!! Well Ashlee my dear, until next time, remember I'm always thinking about you, you are always in my heart, I miss you. Love ya!

“ HAPPY BIRTHDAY ASHLEE!!!!Wow-do you realize that you have two birthday's?? Yep-one for Earth and one for Heaven!!! That's awesome!!!! (you always were one to do things on your timeline-don't try doing that up there!!)Mom sent a picture of her and Aden at 8 months. A beautiful picture of your Mom. Aden looks so much like you!!!! If she were to dress him in that pink dress you wore in one of your pictures, I wouldn't be able to tell the difference!! It's freaky! Although it could be that I'm weird. I went to the movie "Happy Feet" and I thought the dancing Penguin looked like you!!! (and to think I don't drink at all!!!!)Ya know what, this really sucks Ash and I hope you realize it!!! ALL of us should not have to be "writing" you, we should be able to hug you and tell you face to face all that we say in this guest book. We miss you greatly. But regardless, this is all we've got now. And I know that we are ALL grateful for Aden. Yesterday as I thought of everything that I was thankful for, that's what I was most thankful for. I just needed you to know that Ash! Thank you. Your Mom and Dad and Myriah (although she still afraid to pick him up!!) love him so much. You can see the love and pride in their eyes when they are with him. And he adores them!! And of course, there's Sandy-all the kids know and love Sandy and Aden is no different!!! And his eyes brighten up when he sees Kathy and Barbara and Linda too!! It's so wonderful Ash! He's at that stage of recognition and believe me, he sure knows/recognizes his family!!! It was really funny when I took him from your Mom, he looked at me like "what the h##-who is this!!!! He'll figure it out someday, just like you did! He's going to go through so many fun stages coming up real soon. I sure wish you were still here to enjoy them but I know you are seeing him from above. There is nothing like seeing the world through the eyes of a child as they see or do something the first time, nothing.God loves you Ash, and so do !!Miss ya!Happy Earth Birthday!!*

“ Ashlee-I have known your mother for thirty-seven years. I have always known what to say to her. Your mom, Karla and I did everything together when we where young. We even dressed the same. We don't get to spend a lot of time together now, but when we do get together, we fall right back into the three little girls we were 37 years ago. Now I have no magic words for your Mom to ease her grief. I don't even know what to say to her. I can't imagine her loss, and I can't imagine going though such a loss. She is a strong woman. The strongest I have ever known. She has grown stronger still over the last couple of months, but now there is a loss that even strength can not bear. I know you are in fantastic hands with your grandmother. I loved her so much. Your grandmother made me feel so special when I was a little girl and I would play at your Mom's house. I am happy that you are in her loving arms, safe from all harm and pain. Rest now. Karla and I will watch out for your Mom. Rest.

“ Hey Ash!!Finally got around to checking my emails after about 6 weeks. Way too many things going on, as you know since you can look down on us now :-) But you also know that EVERYTHING is turning out okay!! Anyways-got around to the emails and your Dad sent me a totally great photo spread of you and Aden. You would be so proud of him, he did a GREAT job!Talked with your Mom the other day, not for long but long enough to know. Do me a favor and whisper in your Mom and Dad's ears some night and let them know what they need to know. You know.Haven't heard from Myriah since the day we said goodbye to you. Mostly my fault-you know me, I just forget to call!!! I surely will get in touch with her though. I'm sure she is need a whisper from you too...Amber is doing FANTASTIC and so is Branden. I am so very proud of them, each for their own reasons. Sure do miss you!Love ya lots!!!

“ Yesterday Aden turned 8 months old. I had him go shopping with me and took him to summer's moms to visit summer. She broke her foot! I bought him some spiderman shoes too. And sorry honey I also bought him a tigger jacket. But he looks so much like you its like being with you all over again. Remember we are thinking of you everyday. I love and miss you!!!Mom

“ Hi Everyone, I had left a link for people to watch a great photo show of Ashlee and her son Aden. I tried copying and pasting the link myself and got it to work a couple of times but most of the time it didn't work properly. So if you can't watch it but want to, you can email me at bobschmittty53@comcast.net and I will send it to you and then you can watch it for sure. It's really good, Ashlee would be proud to have you watch it. God Bless All, Ashlee's Dad

“ Ashlee~

Not a day goes by that Bob and I don't think about you and wish things could be different. I wish I could have been there for you to let you know that I was a single mom once too, and it sure wasn't easy. I wish I could have told you that time would have made things better. I hope to meet you on the other side someday. We hurt for you and think of you all the time.

Bob and Melissa~

Not a day goes by where we don't think of you two and wish we could ease your pain in some way. We hope you are doing well.

Please give Aden hugs and kisses from us.

God Bless you guys, he will help you through this time of tremendous pain and grief.

Our love always,

“ Ash,

Mom picked up Aden's 7 month pictures yesterday. They turned out GREAT. Mom said when she took him in for the pictures he was once again just a happy boy while she and him had to wait 20 minutes for someone else getting their babies pictures taken. When it was his turn, Mom said he got in front of the camera and justed started smiling and they were done in 5 minutes he was so good. You know the picture of you and Myriah when you were a baby. I held Aden's new picture up to it and once again we were both amazed at how much he looks just like you. Same smile, same eye's, same nose and everything. Mom said he is the male version of you. You were a very happy baby too honey. Just wanted you to know honey. We love you honey and miss you dearly!!!!!!!!!!

“ Ash,

Last weekend we had Aden over to the house. It was wonderful to see him. I can't believe how much he looks like you. Looking at your baby pictures, you could be twins. He had a cold and now I have it, but it was more than worth it to see him. Myriah and Sandy stopped by to see him also. We all love and miss you so much Honey. Someday we will all be together again in paradise. God Bless You Honey.

I am so sorry for your loss of Ashlee. There is no pain worse than losing your child, as we just lost our son Eric (Tom and Linda's neighbor). There isn't a day where you don't cry or just are lost as to why their time was up. I remember the girls playing with Eric and Valerie when they were younger. My prayers go out to you and your family.

“ Hey Sweetie,
I can't believe you are really gone. I miss you so much. We all do! I wish we would have been even closer than we were. I will always remember all the times we had together though. The play dates when we were kids. And the short time we spent together at Blaine High School. I met Aden for the first time on Sunday. He is so cute and such a ham! He looks just like you. I know he will miss you so much and he will be loved and well taken care of. We know you are in good hands now and all and any pain you had is gone. Although we wish you were still here with us, it gives us all peace of mind to know that you are happy now. I will be praying for you, your mom and dad and Myriah. You will always be in our hearts! I love you girl! Rest in Peace and god bless!

Remember the all night talk we had when you were in Iowa, I told you Jesus knows our hearts. He knows your was filled with pain that day, but he knows that your real heart was filled with love, caring, kindness, compassion and forgiveness. Jesus has now brought peace to your heart.
I have heard that a smile is a reflection of your heart, and when it reaches your eyes its a reflection of your soul. When I think of you Ashlee it's your beautiful smile that always reached your eyes I will remember.
I know that with all the love and support from your family and friends your son will have a smile just like his mother.

“ To the Schmidtbauer Family~

Sunday morning, my mom called me to tell me of Ashlee's death. The news brought tears to my eyes as I'm sure it did to everyone. Thinking back on it, I have known your family for almost 15 years. It seems like just yesterday when we were all out playing in the yard, sledding down the big hill next to the driveway in the snow. Having fun just being kids. Several of my best childhood memories involve Ashlee and your family. Keep these memories close in heart as I will. I'm sorry I couldn't be there for you all to help support you and comfort you.

“ Ashlee was a student in my husbands Law Enforcement Class at S.T.E.P. I met Ashlee when I went to the school to talk to the students about the other side of the Badge. Ashlee was very pleasant and funny. I am so sad for her family with their loss and for her baby that he will not know first hand what a wonderful mom he had. I hope the family will find peace in the days ahead with her passing, and find hope in the future. We were away at the time and were shocked with the news. May God fill you with His grace and mercy and give you peace.
