Like a sibling, a cousin is usually part of one's earliest memories and growing up. Some cousins are closer than friends, Bahram was that kind of cousin for me as close as a brother. I could talk to him about all and anything. I feel as though a part of me is lost with his passing....

Before his illness we used to talk on the phone every weekend for a good long while...we had long, serious, deep conversations about past, present, future, and many fun conversation that brought us many many laughs. These memories will always keep Bahram alive in my life.....

I was the lucky recipient of his kindness, caring, and giving. He was genuine, spiritual, down to earth, easy going, fun, and always made sure all those around him felt welcomed, comfortable, and cared for. I am so grateful and better for having had him in my life!

Jane, Brom (Amy), Angie (Ian, Jensen, and Oaklee), Jason, Bijan and Elaine, Mahnaz and Akbar, and Barry, I am so sorry for your loss!!! May all the happy loving memories you shared bring comfort to your hearts!

There will never be another Bahram. I will miss him so.. RIP!

“ My father, Bahram once shared with me that he really wanted me to sing PROUD TO BE AN AMERICAN the famous song that we all know sung by Lee Greenwood...and he actually wanted me to sing at his funeral day. It's been many years and I never asked him if he still wanted that, but one thing I do know is that my dad was always a strong American-spirited kind of a guy. He loved his freedom and he was a true Patriot at heart. He loved being here in America, as much or most of his family is here as well and are also grateful.

“ Bahram was someone I looked up to when I was growing up. In my mind, he was a brave soul who did things that defied rules; something that I would only have dreamed of doing. He was a few years older than me and we saw each other at family events. During these occasions he was always kind and looked after me. My impression back then, was that he was a corner I could rely on for a soft hearing. After a number of years, I saw Bahram with his new wife, Jane, in Minneapolis. I thought he had landed an angel for a wife. They were both so kind and nurturing and in love with each other. I remember that seeing them together made me feel like I wanted to have a relationship just like his. I am extremely happy that my life crossed his life and saddened by his passing while celebrating my many memories of him. Rest in peace dear soul, I miss you, until we meet again❤️, Reza

“ Dearest Jane.
Nothing can take away the pain of losing dear Bahram ‘Jan’.
But we hope that the outpouring of love and affection from all who were fortunate enough to know him - and the knowledge that you, Brom + Amy, Jason, Angie + Ian, and the grandchildren, Jensen + Oaklee, are in the thoughts and prayers of us all - will help ease some of the pain and sorrow.

He was an exceptional human being whose caring and thoughtful nature touched the hearts of all who knew him, and will never be forgotten.

With our deepest heartfelt condolences.
