“ My Dearest Cousin Bobbie Jo,

You would babysit me and my siblings, and I still clearly see you "dancing" with our refrigerator. I was 5-6 years old, you must have been 15, teaching me how to dance. I loved your enthusiasm and willingness to share it with me. You made me feel valuable, cherished and important.

When I was 14, I see you coming to our home with a new beau to meet my parents. My mother greeting you and the beau with open arms and warmth. A lovely hour spent getting to know each other. All of us glowing in the warmth of new love. Wanting to fan that fragile flame so it would ignite to its full potential of passion.

I will always love you for your selfless generosity. Thank you for being an important part of my life.
