Bertha Bih (Amou)

January 1, 1945 - January 11, 2026

"Do all to keep me at rest near my husband."

Bertha Bih, lovingly known as Amou, was born in Mankon, Bamenda, Cameroon, to Lum and Manakou. In 1959, she began studying the Bible with Jehovah's Witnesses alongside her husband, Tse Daniel. She was baptized in 1960. They later married and raised nine children together.

Amou and her husband shared a life of faithful service until his passing in May 2003. In 2011, she moved to the United States and spent her final years with her children, facing health challenges with strength, peace, and trust in Jehovah.

She will be remembered as a devoted mother, grandmother, and great-grandmother. She is survived by six children, fifteen grandchildren, and thirteen great-grandchildren.

Amou passed away peacefully on January 11, 2026, at Mercy Hospital in Coon Rapids, Minnesota. Her burial will be conducted in harmony with her Bible-trained conscience, as she wished.
