“ Betty,
I am still in shock over all of this. In the past few years or so, you & I became friends, accepting each other for who we were. Many times this past week, I have wanted to call you, just because. You will be missed by me & others! I almost had to laugh when this April snow storm came, I could hear you giving me the weather report & me arguing that they don't know what they are talking about & you laughing at that. Maybe it was you asking for that favor from up in Heaven, one last doozy of a snow storm.
