“ Aunt Bev was a character full of fun and laughter when people came over she did what she could to make them feel welcome and hospitable. I remember one time my folks and I visited and she wanted to put out snacks. She had the potato chips but someone asked for dip well she didn't have any but put out a bottle of Ketchup and you know it was pretty good. Like french fries. We chuckled about that. Pretty clever I would not have thought of that.
