“ Brent was such a wonderful man. He became a valued friend and was more like a dad to my husband and I. Our kids and grandkids even called him grandpa.

I am crying as I type this because I miss him and find it unreal that he has been gone for nearly a month already.

So blessed to have been a neighbor, landlady, friend and family member of Brent. I love you dad!

“ Pat and Brent were neighbors for many years, then Brent and I shared an interest in collecting things and selling at flea markets, but mostly collecting things. He also helped me with Estate Sales over the years, he preferred to set up the garage with all the tools, he shared his knowledge with me on all things "guy stuff" and wanted to stay away from the fancy glassware or polishing the silver before the sale. I will remember his laugh and how he was always ready to help someone. Hugs to his family and friends. Dawn Rutt
