“ It's hard to know that I have to wait for for Heaven to hear my uncle call me "Ingy Bingy." Carl always made me laugh. He made gatherings fun and special with his humor and stories. The first time he met my husband, Pete, he startled him with his ultra thick MinneSwedish accent-- Pete realized quickly that he was an extraordinary man who was greatly loved by his family. He's in Heaven now with his brother, Harry, and my dad. I'd like to think that they're enjoying some great fishing!
God Bless you Uncle Carl- I love you.

“ Carol, I never had the chance to meet or know your Peterson family, but I extend my sympathies to you all in your loss. My dad's birthday was last week--he would have been 101--and we still miss him, after 16 years without him. We can rejoice that they are both in heaven with their beloved Lord Jesus Christ!

“ My prayers are with the family for the loss of a great man. I am thankful for the many wonderful hours spent around the Peterson dinner table during college and the years after as I dated and then married Carl's granddaughter, Elizabeth. From farming to WWII to police work, I loved visiting with Carl and gaining his insight. One of the greatest from a great generation!

“ *What a privilege it was to know my wonderful grandpa-in-law (my husband Jonathan maternal grandfather). He had such a wonderful smile and good sense of humor. It was so special to meet him and see where my husband and my little son get their big strong hands and loving laughs. He was a generous man who cared deeply for his family and those around him. He left a lasting legacy of faith and family. He will be missed. Until we meet again, Grandpa Carl. I bet you are singing in Swedish with the angels. Ya sure ya betcha!

“ My prayers are with the family for your peace. I am sorry for the loss of a great man who had a great life and left a lot of evidence behind with his family and faith as proof.

I was privileged to meet him and know him as the greatly loved grandfather of my wife Heather. She shares endless fond memories of her grandfather.

I know that this family will have a grand time celebrating the memories and life of Carl Peterson!
