“ Grams,
So many hearts are broken
after losing you.
We know you're in a better place with Gramps
where the pain is gone, but the absence we feel is great.

You were the grandma I called to chat with.
The grandma that made
everyone smile.
You were Generous.
Selfless.
Humble.
Loving.
Your family was the most important thing
in your world
and we knew it.
Felt it.
Admired it.

You shared your love of cooking,
of finding great deals,
relaxing at the lake,
and celebrating every holiday and birthday with a meal and everyone together talking, laughing, playing.

I'm going to miss your hugs and kisses,
your sense of humor,
your conversation,
bringing you donuts,
and the extra special love you had for your “3 little angels”

*and especially,
your "3 little great angels"*

*Nothing made me happier than seeing you with my children.
Playing with them,
reading to them,
sneaking them treats,
and spoiling them with your love.*

*You were, and always will be everything
to our family.
Our grief is overwhelming, but we'll take care of each other, remind each other of all that we learned,
saw,
and felt
from you and Gramps.*

Rest In Peace my sweet Grams, Love Angel #1
