“ Just thinking of the time she and I shared when we worked at American Express. She and I shared a cubicle and a love of music. She remains one of the brightest lights I have ever met in my life. I hadn't seen her in the year before she passed and I wish i could have told he how much I enjoyed our time together and how desperately the world needed her. I miss her on occasion but when I do, it's very sorely.

“ I last saw Christine at the Fall Art Festival in Stillwater on a beautiful October Sunday. She sang so beautifully and I was glad to listen to her and purchase her cd, which I play all the time. We chatted on a hay bale in between sets and I swatted the hay off her butt before she headed back on stage.

“ I had the pleasure to spend an evening with Christine at the piano bar at Nye's in October. We sang our hearts out. A night I will never forget, a memory and a woman who will always hold a place in my heart! My thoughts are with all of her family and friends. I only wish I could be there to bid her a proper farewell.

“ Elizabeth and family: I met Christine at your baby shower. Her exuberant charm convinced even the most downtown-avoidant among us to make the trek to hear her sing at the Dakota. What a star she was! Not just the voice - the black hair, the alabaster skin, red lips, snapping her fingers. On top of the world. With great sorrow at her passing, Jill Orenstein

“Christine sang at our 25th wedding anniversary four years ago and made it so much fun for everyone. Whenever we would see her at a music venue she would hug us and greet us like old friends. She was a warm, wonderful person and a delightful member of the Twin Cities live music scene. She will be missed by all.

“ I barely knew Christine, but the few times I encountered her she made an immediate and lasting impression. The first time I met her was in a stairwell at the Minneapolis College of Art and Design. I was alone in the stairwell and heard (seemingly out of nowhere) an angelic singing voice made more ethereal by the stairwell's acoustics. Of course it was Christine and I count it as a magical moment. Later, we became reacquainted when she started a job at The Minneapolis Institute of Arts very near the time I was leaving my job there. The kindness, sweetness and empathy Christine showed me was truly remarkable. More recently, I was delighted to learn that she was able to leave office work to do what she loved best-sing! Christine, you were a bright spot in a weary world.

“ My dear Christine, I will never forget the night you stopped by during my bonfire party in October of 2007. My friend, Michael, was playing his guitar by the fire, you sat down and asked if he knew any Joni Mitchell. He played, you sang. It was such a magical night! I am so grateful Vito had his camera to capture that moment. Your sweet voice will always and forever be in my heart, mind and soul. Rest in peace, Christine. ~Jennifer Jones

“ I was so sad to read about Christine's passing today in the paper. I knew Christine in high school through mutual friends and then again 10 years later, when she returned from Chicago and was just starting her singing career. Over the years, every time I read an article about her in the paper or saw her shows listed, I always thought to myself, now there is a woman with gumption. I am very sorry to hear she is no longer with us. My condolences to her family.

“Christine blessed us with her talent and her whimsy at the Club Saratoga in Duluth. We became quick friends when we found we both had Cairn Terriers. At that point I had invited her to feel free to stay with us when she came to Duluth to perform and to bring Tally. We have some wonderful memories, some very humorous, that we will savor and never forget. My favorite is Christine and I sitting on our deck on Sunday morning drinking coffee and reading the paper, while Tally and my two female terriers played in the grassy yard. Tally was in heaven. This is when I got to know Christine best and cherish those moments. She shared some of her deepest pain and also her goals and wishes for her future. She was very endearing and became like family. My husband Jerry and I loved her dearly and will miss our times we spent with her. I know the many memories we have of Christine and her music she shared with us all, will be a comfort through the tears and the pain of the loss of this wonderful and talented woman.
