“ Cliff was a great mentor during my years at Johnson, West & Company. When ever I thought the audit files were complete he would have me doing more documentation. He continued to guide me in my career. Quiet was never part of his demeanor. His walls needed additional insulation so he wouldn't disrupt the rest of the office. My sympathy to the family he adored.

“ I wonder how many times Cliff sat on the deck at my Dad's place on Norway Lake smoking his cigar chatting about nothing or everything? Many times Dad would say "Cliff's up" . That meant he was expecting to see him soon. Even after Cliff starting "slowing down" he would somehow make it over there for a visit. They sure enjoyed each other's company. Dad is going to miss him.
