“ Aunt Corinne was a consistent presence during my childhood holidays and beyond. She exuded quiet warmth, adding her quick staccato comments and soft laugh to the conversation as we all sat in chairs circled around grandma’s living room as we ate, played games, or opened presents. Aunt Corinne took charge of compiling lists of email addresses, birthdays, anniversaries, and more for the family, diligently sending out emails to keep everyone informed. When my parents, June and Roger Johnson, were in Brazil in the mid 1960’s, Aunt Corinne meticulously typed up every letter my mother sent to her mother. I greatly appreciate this effort since my mom’s handwriting could be small and challenging to read. Having it all typed up is wonderful. Every Christmas, Aunt Corinne included a small, handcrafted cross-stitch ornament in her Christmas card – I have saved them all. My heartfelt condolences go out to Uncle Bob, Ken, and Doug.
