“ Daniel,It's so hard to stop by here Danner. I am hurting so bad. I do not even know what else to say because it doesn't matter, nothing seems to matter like before. God this hurts, every day it hurts more. I Love you Daniel and I will keep going on for you and your Brother. Happy Thanksgiving, but it's not because there are two empty places at our table and two large cracks in my heart. Love Always,Dad

“ Dan, It was your birthday yesterday! Happy birthday! I miss you so much and I hope you are looking over me and all of your loved ones. I graduate in about 22 days and I'm going to college to become a police officer. You would be so proud of Lacy too she is doing really good and overcoming a lot of struggles in her life. I hope you are having a ball with your brother up there!!! I'm pretty sure you guys have had plenty of WWE fights with him haha. Please look over me and my family and help us through everything. We all miss you very very much! I still have not taken off the bracelet I got at your wake the only time I take it off is when I play softball or when I take a shower, otherwise it stays on my wrist!. I am going to come visit your grave this weekend now that the snow is finally gone! I can't wait to see you again Dan you will always be in my heart for as long as I live! God Bless Daniel and I hope to see you again one day! Semper Fi

“ My dearest Dan, A year ago today you were taken from us. But the good Lord had bigger and better things for you. You and Brian were meant to be together and now we are blessed to have both of you looking out for all of us down here. Your picture remains on my refrigerator so I can look at you every day. We miss you and Brian very much but know you are in a good place. The memories of you both will always be with us. Love, Tim, Melanie Lacy and Chelsee

“ Dan, You have been gone for almost a year now, but for almost a year you have been in our hearts and in our minds. I have yet to take off the bracelet I got in memory of you at your wake last year. I look at it every day and say a short prayer for you. Just the other day I was telling my boyfriend about you. How you and Terrence mended me with lime jello and hugs and kisses when I was in pain. All the fun times I got to experience with you and my brother. Making me breakfast after an amazingly fun (lol) night at T.J's place. I was telling him you were like a big brother to me and how much we all loved and still do love you. You are missed so very much. I hope you are looking down on all of us from up there sittin back with Brian and petting my pepper. Hope to see you again some day, Dan.

“ Dear Kathy and family, I am so sorry for the loss of your sons. I know it is the roughest road you have to travel. With God carrying you and all the family & friends that are there to support you, life will be do-able. I lost my son last June and keep waiting for "the time that heals". It has not arrived yet, but I am stumbling through. I can not imagine how much more pain your trials are causing you, mine is small compared to yours. “ Dan-the-man-Sweeney, you have brought my family such great joy. You, Brian, and TJ made my coffee for me before I even got up for work, you made your condo-tents in our yard and spent summers in it, our trips to the "airport" are unforgettable. You grew up to be such a beautiful and honorable man. You will be so missed Dan but always loved by us. We cherish the time we had with you. You are so loved. Lynn and TJ and Jenni

“ Dear Leone’ and Family, “Danny Boy” will live on in our hearts as one of those precious, unforgettable spirits who brought endless sunshine into the lives of everyone he met. He always had a grin from ear to ear, a story to tell, a hug to share, and some awesome basketball move that defied gravity...such a joy, and so many cherished memories. Words just feel so inadequate. Please know we wish you His peace, strength and comfort during this time of sorrow. Our heartfelt sympathy and prayers,
