“ I am so sorry for your loss. I live in Houston, Texas and worked at Target here with one of the HQ branch offices where Debra and I talked very often then later communicated a lot online after work. We were good friends during that time but lost contact. When looking for her again today I found that she earned her wings in January this year. I can't believe she is gone. Again, my condolences. 713-705-7015.
