Its there they raised three daughters, created many priceless memories and also where Don took his last breaths.

He was creatively gifted in writing clever notes & letters and also rather skilled in his workshop. He lived his faithful Christian life in a somewhat meticulous manner, enjoying a variety of hobbies & activities... some of which were golfing, fishing, bowling, traveling the world through the History Channel and nature documentaries, watching Twins & Vikings games, attending events of his treasured grandchildren, relaxing on the deck with Marion watching the birds and the wondrous clouds, and the challenges of many crosswords & puzzles. If you find yourself spontaneously picking up a small speck off the floor, randomly mesmerized by some feathered friends or having some good luck with your crosswords and puzzles, then know that Don's spirit is right there with you. He is preceded in death by his parents Joe & Helen Loch, granddaughter Abigail Schmiesing, sister Monica Thompson, brother Ron Loch, and half-brothers Adrian, Alfred, and Wally Loch.
