“ Hey Don, We're just sitting around munchin' on tamales we made, wafting the aeromatic essence of all the spices and flavors that accumulate when that tradition takes place.I have memories of you and Mother Betty in the kitchen making all those Mexican dishes for all to enjoy at this time of year. Smell triggers memory. I think of you and others in my life and all the good things that were done to enhance the quality of life for loved ones around you.It's been said over and over, how much you are missed each and every day by your family and all those who knew you.With a little bit of help, your family has been gaining speed at moving on. All can believe it when I say you are sorely missed by those who knew and depended on you.R.I.P. my brother, for someday we may meet again in another place and time.

“ Time has passed since you left this earth, but no one has forgotten you!! I wish that you could have been present for the wedding and here to meet your new grandson soon. Ehren and I were just talking about the way you told stories, well...Ehren is now telling stories like you did. We had a nice laugh. He misses you greatly...everyone does. At least we know even though you can't be with us, you will always be present by the values and lessons that you taught your children that they will then pass to their children. Thank you for raising Ehren in such a wonderful way. I am blessed to have such an amazing husband/best friend in my life and I know that he wouldn't be who he is today without your guidance and love.

“Daddy. My heart is still broken. I miss you more and more everyday. While its been a year, I feel like I'm frozen in time. I have to trust in my heart that that you have transitioned to a wonderful place and that you are watching over us all. It's the only way I can accept you not being here with us. I remind Elijah how wonderful and amazing his grandpa is. He asks about you often. It saddens me that Noah didn't get to meet you, but I know you would adore eachother. This year has been hard for all of us and I don't know when the pain and heartbreak will cease. I do know that you are my hero and everything I want my boys to grow to be. I love you always!Bryndin

“ It has been a year since you left us. Not a day goes by that you are not thought of and missed. It has been a year of struggles. We took for granted all the things you did for us. I'd like to believe that you, Dad and Mike are together watching over us, keeping us safe. The void the three of you left is unbearable at times. They say with time comes healing. That may be so, but you never stop missing someone. You are missed every day. We love you Donnie. Mom & Carol

“ Don, I am thinking of you today...as it has almost been a year since you have passed away. I see how much my best friend, and love of my life misses you and would like to see or hear your voice again. From the time that I got to know you, I saw what a great father and grandpa you were. You are missed greatly!

“ I would like to thank everyone for their condolences, and welcome anyone who would like to add a message. Today would have been my fathers 59th birthday. There isn't a day that goes by that I don't think of him. Dad, I miss you and love you. Happy birthday.
