“ Douglas and I were best friends in the late 60s. I was best man at his first wedding, and he was best man at mine in September 1970 My wife and I moved west to Portland Oregon in 1978 and Doug and I lost track of each other. Last time I saw him was New Years 1974. Thinking of Doug tonight - so many friends from those times are passing on. Doug was one of the most fun, out going guys I've ever known. He really ripped me out of my shell. Best wishes to his family.

“ I worked with Doug for just over 3 years at Harrison. I was the center director. We butted heads occassionally but we worked together to accomplish our goals. We enjoyed out trips to Olive Garden to celebrate our successes. We made a great team - and he will be missed.
