

Dylan Harmston

December 21, 1995 - June 16, 2024

In Loving Memory of Dylan Jerald Harmston December 21, 1995 - June 16, 2024

Loving son, brother, grandson, uncle, and friend, Dylan J. Harmston passed away on June 16th, 2024. Dylan was a talented three-sport athlete, a creative musician, and an advocate for others.

He had a huge heart and a contagious smile that touched the lives of many. He always made the people around him feel important and encouraged them to be the best person they could be. Even though he had a strange appetite, like eating onions like an apple, you couldn't help but smile and want to be around him more. His laugh was so contagious that you would end up laughing along with him.

"Dylan taught me how to not have an ounce of fear and to always give it your all."

- Teammate

His legacy will live on through his music and the countless individuals whose lives he touched. He will be dearly missed by his family and friends.

As he would say, "Dulche, Remember the Name."

“ I think about you all the time Dilly bar. I miss the sound of your podcasts you would listen to day in and day out playing off in the distance of our home. I miss the empty cookie jar, not it sits here full. Its those small things that trigger the pain of you being gone. Like the tree you sat under every day your last summer here in the world and how you would record your music under that tree every morning and afternoon. I miss the random text messages I would get from you everyday just to say that you loved me. This is so hard. I miss you so much my baby boy. every cell in my body is grieving you being gone. I wish you were here to give me one of your hugs or just to tell me not to cry." why you crying mom? Dont cry!" I miss you so much!
