“ I am saddened to learn of Eric's passing, and sorry for not looking him up much sooner. We were good friends during our undergraduate years at RPI, my being a year behind Eric. So, Eric was a mentor and significantly influenced my course of study and path toward graduate school. And, of course, Eric was a “live wire,” which greatly elevated the mood at RPI from what otherwise could be rather hectic and, at times, even depressing, particularly during the dreary Troy winter. I wish to express my condolences to his family and friends.
