“ When Esther retired from teaching first grade at Hale School, I took over her classroom and ended my career there with 3 years in the first grade. I remember when Esther was clearing out the room of her personal things and organizing the teaching materials that were shared with others, she came into the hallway calling to the first grade teachers, "I can't find Fun!." That was a vocabulary card in the box for beginning readers. Well, she did find the fun card, and I think she found Fun in her retirement too. That has been a catchword for me ever since---"Are you finding Fun?" She and Steve took me with them to the Minneapolis Retired Teachers meetings for years. We promised to always keep in touch. She was a very dear friend.

“ *These are only three of many memories I have of Auntie Esther: Eating a hard boiled egg in an egg cup for breakfast at her house before going to the State Fair; the summer Auntie Esther was completing her Masters degree and typing her thesis for her; July/August 1976 -Uncle Steve and Auntie Esther let Carol and I borrow their truck/camper for our trip to the Black Hills.
