“*Evie was my mother's good friend. Monica Hennessy was widowed in 1961 and she became friends with Evie several years afterward. They went dancing to big band music together, ate dinners at our house together, and supported one another emotionally through joys and trials. My mother's life was better because of Evie's sense of joy. The last time I saw her was in August 15, 2002 when she came to my mother's funeral and dinner after. She was so kind and loving to us all. I just saw this memorial today, 12 years after her passing, but I wanted her family to know how much joy she brought to my mother and how we appreciate her for all she did. Rest In Peace Evie.
