

Gail V. Hogg

September 4, 2014

Hogg, Gail V. 79, of Minneapolis, died peacefully & surrounded by love on September 4, 2014, after a brief illness. Predeceased by her beloved husband, best friend, and fellow pea-in-the-pod Jim Hogg, Gail was a caring and proud matriarch of her three daughters, Delene Lambert, Leslie Pritchett, and Jennifer Lick, her four sons, Bill Hogg, Alan Hogg, Andy Pugh, and Peter Hogg, and their collective eleven grandchildren. Gail, the daughter of Hugo and Mary Victor and a life-long resident of the Twin Cities, was born in St. Paul on June 15, 1935. She attended Summit School and the University of Minnesota, graduating college with a degree in psychology. Gail had many interests, was always learning, and never went anywhere without a book. She enjoyed traveling all over the world, embracing different cultures and making friends wherever she went. She loved being with her faithful dogs and her many dear friends. Above all she adored her children and grandchildren. Even at the end, Gail's optimism and sheer will were unbowed. Never one to let anything slow her down, four days before her death she was earnestly planning "the trip of a lifetime" to the Galapagos Islands, telling us she could use something to look forward to. Join us for a celebration of Gail's life this Thursday, September 18, at 3 p.m. in The Chapel at Westminster Presbyterian Church, 1200 Marquette, Minneapolis.
