“ I had a moment at work today when I had a science question. I worked with Geoff at Questar, so I quickly thought, "Oh, I'll just email Geoff and I will completely trust his answer and it will be solid and quick and friendly and generous," but oh, yeah, I can't. I missed him with a deep ache. And the moment made me realize that even though I didn't know him long or well, I'll always remember him.
