“ I send my most sincere condolences to Harry's family and to Bonnie. Harry became a very dear friend to my husband and me sixteen years ago. He was always available to help whenever he could and whenever and wherever he was needed. I cannot say enough wonderful things about our friendship with Harry. He always had a smile and such a pleasant disposition. He is dearly missed. After my husband died Harry was so very kind and phoned often to be certain I was doing okay. I will forever treasure the friendship we had and I know someday I will see him again. He loved His Lord and Savior and shared that love often in so many ways. Harry leaves an incredible legacy and it has been a gift to have known him. You are so dearly missed and I treasure the times you phoned me to make certain I was okay and if there was anything he could do for me. My thoughts, prayers and deepest sympathy are with his family and Bonnie. (Patricia Maxwell, friend and neighbor)
