“ Jerry was my buddy and neighbor for many adventurous years. We watched and witnessed as his wife passed and he collapsed and shortly thereafter, my 6 yr old boy died. So much grief and anxiety and pain to endure. Jerry was very supportive and I could always count on him. We stood guard while the neighborhood turned upside down with crime and murder, as I stood vigilant he stood supportive. We explored his amorous exploits with his young african american visitors while he was looking for affection; all this with great humor and and his impulsive libedo lol. How he admired his ex daughter in law Kelly and how enamored he was with her striking allure. Oh Jerry we sure had a good time watching fleeting fire trucks and police cars sirens while shrieking past our properties, often with too close to call destinations across the street and next door to you. We stood steadfast and ready to bear arms and secure our footing in our investment and land we so love. We laughed till your beer spilled and our eyes gazed through our street catching the sometimes enticing inhabitants strolling by to and fro. Jerry I did not always agree with you and I'm sure you I. However you meant what you said and said what you meant. Jerry I will miss you and I wish you a Great New Adventure in the mystical world that comes next. Be good and don't get to naughty. Your buddy mick!
