“ how can you ever forget Jerry. fun loving, unpredictable, always fun to be around. so bad to hear of his passing, but at the same time, it was probably the better thing for him in his condition. he was never the one to have to stay in one place too long, and for him to be confined in any type of restrictions, was not for him. our heartfelt condolences to the immediate family and especially his wife and my sister Shirley. thank goodness your children are fairly close and can help get you through this trying time. With love, Jim and Jennifer Monaghan.
