

Grant Medellin

March 28, 2004

Medellin Grant Tyler Medellin, age 19, died unexpectedly on March 24, 2004. Survived by his father, Juan Medellin; and mother, Vicki Iverson; brother, Blake Cody Medellin; grandparents, Ed and Maria Susterich, and Janice Emanuelson; aunts, uncles, cousins and many friends. Grant and his brother Blake lived with their Dad and Ruth Cederberg for the past 14 years. Grant was born on March 20, 1985 in St. Paul. He was raised in Edina and graduated from Edina High School in 2003 and was currently attending Hennepin Technical College in Eden Prairie. Grant was happy, unselfish and a giving person - always ready to help a friend in need, day or night. He lived each day to the fullest. Grant's passion was fixing and repairing automobiles, with a special interest in installing car stereo systems for himself and his friends. He was looking forward to working at Valley Fair this summer as a life guard. He was a good ambassador of friendship. In advance, we would like to thank all of Grant's friends, our friends, C.P. Rail Police and the Edina Police for all the support and kindness shown to us during this sad and difficult time. Memorials to Mpls Children's Hospital. Private interment. Visitation 4-7 PM Sunday, with 7 PM Service at: Washburn-McReavy Edina Chapel W. 50th St. & Hwy. 100 952-920-3996

“ Well you know by now that your Aunt Julie has joined you and Aiden. Please show her the ropes, give her a minute and the you can be confident she will take over and care for the two of you. You have to know that the rest of us are still in sorrow over the three of you and having a hard time here, missing you. My best friend and your greatest cheerleader is not here for us anymore. I know I'm lost without her and you. I feel confident in saying that the rest of us are also lost. I miss you, Aiden and my sister Julie so much I don't even know what to do next. Prayers are not working, if there is even a God, why take our family and put us through all of this anguish. I love you all sooo very much and miss you. My heart is aching everyday. Mom

“ Well you know now that you have at least two blood relatives added to your posse. You are going to have to show your Aunt Julie the ropes, and show her the way for a bit until she is used to her new "life". As much as I have missed you, and Aiden, this will be another sorrowful hurdle for those of us still here on earth. I hope when it is my time that you will recognize me and my sister too! I just can't believe my son and now my sister and best friend are gone. Soooo painful. Our hearts are broken and in the state of no repair. Grant take care of your aunt for me, at least until I get there, then I will take over, like I have done for all our lives together. Love you both so much my heart will burst it seems. It is very lonely right now without you all. There ain't but a few of us left!!!! Hugs & Kisses, Mom (Vicki)

“ Well buddy...these tough times just remind me of how much I have been missing you for the past 8 years. Living with a broken empty heart is just not really living at all....its more like surviving. Anyway ...take care of baby aiden and welcome auntie with one of those "grant hugs" that never lets go. She gets to be with u now too. I miss and love u more than words could even begin to express

“ Dear Grant, The time, I know it moves all to fast, Today it hits me that 7 years has almost past Til the day I die I know you live through me And I know one day, your the first I will see And that day will come... maybe soon maybe not This time of the year my head's tied up in a knot One day we celebrate your birth... drinks are on me Four days later we mourn in the death we couldn't believe Every night before sleep I talk outloud to you Updating the man with what's new with our crew I remember the day that we first met each other we hated one another yet now your like a brother A brother that I loved and lost A brother that I would love to talk to... one more time... And here I am 7 years deep Til the day we meet again, your friendship I will keep I will keep it all day, even when I sleep I will keep it tucked down... tucked in very deep 4 day's from now we will gather for it was the day you died 7 years ago from than was the day we died, inside I write this to you because I miss you so much Life with out you had been very very rough I keep my head high and many have moved on I guess it hits me every year... oh yeah... my best friend is gone... I hope I have made you proud, I hope you still listen... when I talk out loud to myself, about you... because it's you I'm missin I wear a ring around my neck, it keeps you near my heart It keeps me down to earth, everyday is a new start Many of us will remember you as a friend You watch over us, until we see you again In the city on down is where you live today It's there we will meet again, look at each other and say "Hey" I feel so weak for still crying over you But your not to be taken lightly, you were my main dude In closing I'd like to say that it is what it is I never thought though that I would miss some one like this 7 years ago you were the one I looked up to 7 years later I am honored to be one you live through So I hated and loved you all in one life your the only one I will say that to until I meet my future wife You will live in my heart until we meet again until that day comes upon us, You will remain my best-friend - Best Friends Forever - Phil

“ Hi Grant ? I wish Heaven had a phone so I could hear your voice again. I thought of you today, but that is nothing new, I thought about you yesterday, and days before that too. I think of you in silence, I often speak your name. All I have are memories and a picture in a frame. Your memory is a keepsake, from which I'll never part. God has you in his arms, I have you in my heart..... Love you always and forever, Moms

April 17, 2010 at 12:00 AM

“ Dear Grant, The last letter I wrote you I read at your funeral. I just wanted to talk to you so badly then and I want to talk to you now more than ever. Holy Cow I do I ever miss you. You would think that over the years some things would just get easier to let go of... you would think... I don't know if you can hear me when I talk out loud to you but I have faith that someone does. I hold the faith that I will someday see you again, hug you and catch up. If there is one thing I learned in life it's that you don't really know what you've got until it's gone. I guess this was a harsh way to learn that lesson huh? I have asked Blake if it's a bad that I still cry about it so long after it's happened...he said "not at all." A lot has happened since you left me, which I am sure you know already. Life has been a roller-coaster that's for sure. I guess it kinda stings to hear people talk about their "best-friends" all the time. I guess just thinking about that term makes me cry a little. I mean I could talk to you about ANYTHING and that's what "best-friends" are all about. I hosted a gathering of some close people a few weeks back and it was such a great night. So many people that care about you showed up and it was great to see them. I noticed that as people came and went that there was always at least one open chair... I knew who was sitting there with us. I wanted to thank you for helping me by the way... just for everything... the advice, the late nights of just cruising around, the friendship. It's amazing to me how much it takes out of me to write this to you, and I know what you're thinking, "be a man!" You know what though? It's really, REALLY hard. I mean I still have that frickin Chevy Blazer with the 15" square kickers for heaven's sake! I can't get rid of it! Means too much to me with how much time "we" (you) put in on that thing! Crazy how it still runs... poorly. But like my favorite song for you say's "In the end my friend we will all be together again." And I can't wait until that day where we will walk together down a valley of color... and pick up right back where we left off. Until then... I will be thinking of you.

“ Grant-It has been 6 years since you were taken from us. I remember how awful it was, and I remember everything about your funeral. I miss you like crazy. I would always come over for Christmas and you'd come up to me and say "Hey Shorty how are you doing?" If it fell on my birthday you'd always wish me a happy birthday. I never told you how much it meant to me that you were always there. You had such a big heart and were always smiling. You could make anyone happy and that was your goal. I respect you and think about how wonderful of a person you are and how much everyone misses you. I am so disappointed that we weren't able to grow closer as we grew up. I miss your smiles and your happy attitude about everything. I hope you welcomed my dad with open arms when he joined you and I am glad you have each other. Keep watching over all of us. “Wow, I can't believe this is the night before Christmas Eve. I remember the year you got your Police uniform and your tickets, and gave everyone a citation for Christmas hugs and you ran out, the most devastating for you. Blake won't be here again this year, and neither will you. It is supposed to get better and it isn't. We all miss you so much but I know that you are here with us, who else would be dropping Nacho Dorito Chips on your Auntie Julie's head and leave her the Abercrombie aftershave smell behind. Oh, and thank you lighting the Christmas tree for us one day. You know how much you are missed and of course this is the Holiday of the year that we all spent together. No wonder you would show up now a make your presence known, I miss you so much but I know you are with me and the rest of the family. Love you so much.

“ Well Grams got her pacemaker and now it looks like she is OK. Obviously there are a couple other things that she needs to do, but overall, she pulled through with flying colors. It has been very stressful - heart conditions scare me to the end of my being. We are having a family reunion on Aug. 16th, I know you will be there in spirit. Miss you so much, the yard looks nice and our flowers are beautiful. It is our tribute to you whenever I look at our garden, I think of you. I sit out there everyday. Love you so much.

“ LOVE YA One morning you will never wake up Do all your friends know you love them? I was thinking... I could die today, tomorrow or next week, and I wondered if I had any wounds needing to be healed, friendships that needed rekindling, or three words needing to be said. Let every one of your friends know you love them. Even if you think they don't love you back, you would be amazed at what those three little words and a smile can do. And just in case GOD calls me home before I see you again..... I LOVE YA!!! I know I don't say it often enough to those I love, but all of you reading this, I Love Ya...

January 25, 2006 at 12:00 AM

“ *Before I was a mom, I slept as late as I wanted and never worried about how late I got into bed.
I brushed my hair and my teeth everyday.*

*Before I was a Mom
I cleaned my house each day.
I never tripped over toys or forgot words to a lullaby.
I didn't worry whether or not my plants were poisonous.
I never thought about immunizations.*

*Before I was a Mom I had never been puked on.
Pooped on. Spit on.
Chewed on.
Peed on.
I had complete control of my mind and my thoughts.
I slept all night.*

*Before I was a Mom
I never held down a screaming child so that doctors could do tests.
Or give shots.
I never looked into teary eyes and cried.
I never got gloriously happy over a simple grin.
I never sat up late hours at night watching a baby sleep.*

*Before I was a Mom
I never held a sleeping baby just because I didn't want to put it down.
I never felt my heart break into a million pieces when I couldn't stop the hurt.
I never knew that something so small could affect my life so much.
I never knew that I could love someone so much.
I never knew I would love being a Mom.*

Before I was a Mom

I didn't know the feeling of having my heart outside my body.

I didn't know how special it could feel to feed a hungry baby.

I didn't know that bond between a mother and her child.

I didn't know that something so small could make me feel so important and happy.

Before I was a Mom

I had never gotten up in the middle of the night every 10 minutes to make sure all was okay.

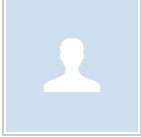

I had never known the warmth, the joy, the love, the heartache, the wonderment or the satisfaction of being a Mom.

I didn't know I was capable of feeling so much before I was a Mom.

“ Grant-

It's been too long. When can I honestly say I understand? I know you are here with me every day, and I can not thank you enough for helping me through the most difficult times of my life. Every day I turn to you for guidance and love. I know you are always there beside me, just like you have always been. Not a day goes by where I don't think of you and share my thoughts with you. For you will be a part of me until we meet again. Grant, you know my deepest secrets, things nobody knows. And I hold yours with me as well. I often find myself reading that letter you wrote to me. You told me things nobody knows. And I have made a vow to you and to myself that nobody will ever know. What happened between us will stay between us forever and more. I miss you terribly and don't really know of a way to cope. I try an tell myself that you are here with me, but that's not enough. I guess i'm being selfish. But who can blame me. I have so many words left unsaid to you and so much regret for times I didn't tell you. And now when I do tell you, all I want to hear is your response. I hear your voice, but need to feel your touch. Soon enough they tell me, you'll be with him soon enough. That's just not good enough for me. But what can I do? I talk to you, you talk to me, I see you in my dreams, in my thoughts, and in my prayers, but still, it is not enough. I want you back. I want so many things. When will that time come where I can finally feel whole again. Tell me Grant, will you wait for me? Keep my a spot right next to you. Promise. I hold you in my heart forever Grant, say hello to everyone for me, and stop in from time to time. I yearn for you, until then. I love you more than you will ever know.

I am thinking of you today and I wish so much that I could have gone home to visit your memorials. I can never tell you enough how much I miss you. You will always have a special place in my heart. It was raining today and it made me think of this poem verse, "May you hear your beloved's laughter in the misty falling rain and know that tears from heaven fall from eyes that share your pain." I know you are watching over all of us. Your spirit has touched so many lives. Thank you, with love forever~

“Babe, a year ago the memory of how hard one month without you was made a year seem like eternity. But with your family and our friends it's been ok. To think back on how I felt a year ago today puts an ache in my heart that is still undescrivable. We've all come a long way and I know for myself that I couldn't have done it without your parents, bieta, blake, phil, alex, and many other people. I know you're still here with us, I can feel it. It's been strange the emotions that I've been through but for the first time I can honestly say that I'm at peace with all of this. I wish every day that it could've been different but I've learned to except that it's not. So today we will celebrate you leading a better life behind those pearly gates and wait for the day when we can all get one of those infamous hugs. Still loving you,

“ Grant,

I know I haven't written in here for a while, but I am still thinking about you constantly. I think it will probably always be that way. I miss you tons! You are in my thoughts all the time now with the holidays approaching. I just can't believe that you won't be there, in the physical sense, to be with us. We will all be thinking about you when we are gathered together for the holidays and we will realize that nothing will be the same without you. It breaks my heart to think that you won't be there at Grams' on Christmas eve to hangout with us, to open your presents, and to eat all the pickles that we put out each year, just for you. This will definitely be a hard holiday season. Sometimes I wish that we could just fast forward through it, but I know that I have to keep my head up and be grateful for what I still have, easier said than done. I know you will be watching over us during this time and I just want to tell you that I can't begin to describe how much you are loved and missed. With some recent bad news we need you now more than ever to look over our family. I'm sure you know what I mean and I know you will do your best. I love you so much.

“ It's amazing how things happen. At first they always seem coincidental but then you come to realize that it's all part of the plan. Hi baby. It's ridiculous; the amount of time that has passed. I know you've been watching over me lately and probably spinning in circles just as fast as I am, in my whirl wind of a life. The up and downs since you've been gone are enough to drive a girl crazy. I know the only reason I'm still holding on is because of your help and guidance. I know that if you could take my pain, you would, but this is life and I will get through it just so I can see you again. I've come across a lot of HUGE changes in my life in the past few months (some more sensitive subjects than others - you know what I'm talking about)and I just hope and pray that I'm making the right decisions. I know I ask you for you opinion all the time and the signs that you seem to give me really help. Grant, I would give up anything and everything. I know you're happy and I'm happy for you. But the selfishness of my needing you in the physical sense sometimes clouds that happiness. I thank you so much for the people you left here for me and for each other. I also want to thank you for the new people that you've brought into my life. It's truly been a blessing. Baby there is not a moment, not an hour, not even a day that will go by without the thought of your beautiful smile. I miss you more than I could ever express in words. The love I have for you and the part of my heart that is yours will never be given to anyone but you. I PROMISE you that. I love you.

“ To my dearest brother-

*I never would have guessed that it would be soooo hard to lose someone. I am just lost without you. You impacted me in so many ways that i can't even begin to explain. Every day i think about the times we shared and it makes me happy that i was able to spend those moments with you, an i wouldn't trade it for anything. Then i think about the times that we were supposed to spend together and the things we were supposed to do...go to each others weddings, hold each others new-borns, have beer-b-ques at our houses, and just plain be there for each other no matter what. That is what brothers are supposed to do. Why were you taken from me so soon? That is the question that will haunt me for many days to come, and it will only be answered when i come to join you in the "great gig in the sky" for that is when i won't have to "wish you were here" anymore, for i will be there...with you once again. You are in my dreams and in my thoughts constantly. It may bother some people that they can't get you off their mind...but i....i wouldn't have it any other way. You were the only one that i knew would always be there for me, but know i'm on my own and somehow i will survive. But if you get bored or have nothing to do up there, would you mind checking on me? i would really appreciate that. I LOVE YOU more than you or i would have ever imagined. I just want to tell YOU that. Please don't forget me, because i know i will NEVER forget you.

“ hey, i just wanted to write again. i found out today a friend of mine died and i have come to the realization this cycle will never end. now i just wonder who is going to be next. the only thing i can get from all of this is to live life the fullest, keep smiling and care for others because in the end that is how you measure life, not by age but by wisdom by love and by happiness. thank you for helping me start to realize this. i love you! and do me a favor, give milton your one in a million smile because as it comforts me down here i can only think it will help comfort him up there with you.

i was just thinking about you so i decided to write a little. As days go by it seems to be getting harder and harder, the opposite of what evryone says i still keep thinking your only gonna be gone for some time and youll be back your just on a long trip but as time passes the reality of it hits me hard, i miss you more then i can say, its the little goofy things we did when we hung out that are missed sooo much and those hugs that no one else can give, and the way you said my name when i was crabby and always put a smile on my face. chi chi i love you so very much and you will always be in my heart and prayers, love always and forever*

Watchin us while we pray for you
Every day we pray for you
Til the day we meet again
In my heart is where I'll keep you friend
Memories give me the strength I need to proceed
Strength I need to believe
My thoughts Big I just can't define
Wish I could turn back the hands of time
Makin hits, stages they receive you on
Still can't believe you're gone
Give anything to hear half your breath
I know you still living you're life, after death
Somebody tell me why
One black morning
When this life is over
I know I'll see your face*

He now has to go on without you but I know he will succeed, you are there to help guide him. Blake was right, I wish I had verbally told you more often the things that were on my mind, the love I have for you. They were always in my thoughts, I just took for granted you knew. “ *Why can't I forget his face?
Why can't I forget his hugs?
Why do I miss my angel so much?
The way he used to smile,
The way he used to hug me tight,
The way he used to make everything all right.
And now, he's gone
And now, so far away
And now, not here to make it all OK.
I lay at night,
I dream of my angel here
I sometimes shed a tear
why do I feel so sad?
Why do I feel so much love?
Why does my angel watch me only from above?
My angel? Answer my prayers
My angel? Your voice is my favorite tune
My angel, I will be with you soon.

“ Hey Bud,

Well...it's been yet another month. The days drag on as though time is standing still without your company. there are many times when I've asked myself why this happened to such a young and amazing person. I can't ask anymore for it just makes me very sad because I know there is no answer that will ever be good enough. I miss you more than I ever thought was even possible. I had no idea how much you meant to me until you were swept away. I wish I would have told you that a little more often. The thing that kills me the most is that you were supposed to be the one that I grew old with and our kids could play together. Nobody could ever take your place in my heart, it is yours for eternity.

Til I see you again just remember... that it's not another day without you, it's another day closer to seeing you again. That is the thinking that keeps me going.

I LOVE YOU and miss you more than I could ever describe.

“ I love you. I miss you more and more with each passing day. With summer just starting I find myself doing so many things alone that you would have normally been right by my side to do. Of any heartache I've been through and any heartache that I have yet to come, this is the one that will last forever. I hate that we live to die, but I know that we all have a purpose for being here and to see you again will make it all worth it.

As I wake up each day without you, what keeps me going is not the thought of another day missing you but the fact that I'm another day closer to being with you again.

My love for you is unconditional.

I love you.....

Your family is so amazing they have held so strong together. Their pain must be unbearable but I'm so glad that they realize how much you were loved and at least that helps dull the pain for a moment.

The quotes, poems and other notes your mom has entered here are so inspiring and your brother, he obviously has utter respect for you he really loves you, and your father and Ruth they too have written such beautiful things. I did not know you that well but from what family and friends have written that seems to have been my loss.

These people seem to feel so lucky to have had you in their life and to all of them I say he was lucky as well to have people care for him the way you all do.

“ Hey brother-

Why were you swept away from us? That is the question that i ask myself over and over again. And the answer that i come up with is that you had done all the good that you could have possibly done here and know it's time for you to enjoy the better things in afterlife. You were too good for this place and now you are where you belong....Along side all the other angels. The other day a complete stranger came up to me and told me i had a strange way about me. She then told me it was as if i had an angel with me. That is when i knew that you were finally settled into your perfect heaven. It brought tears to my eyes and a smile to my face. When i think of you i used to get very depressed, now i can't help but think of all the amazing times that i was fortunate enough to share with you. I thank the man up there everyday for that and would not have traded it for anything.

You have touched so many people in your short life it amazes me every time another person tells me of their experiences with you. It makes me proud to be your brother and to have been able to grow with you. you will never be forgotten and i pray that you don't forget me because i often think about what it will be like when i see you again, and if it's less than pure happiness, i will be very surprised. Then I will feel as though i am whole again, until then i will think of you often. i miss you more than you will ever know.

“ Hey Grant! How are ya? Well its been another day, and a little over a month has gone by and the pain still doesnt seem to decrease. Im not sure it ever will. I still cry myself to sleep at night just thinking about you and reading all these great things about you! Its been a rough time since God swept you away and gave you wings to fly, but ive got to be strong just like you were and still are. Ive found that some music that i listen to helps me sometimes, but i have this quote that is my biggest encouragement. And i just want your mom, dad and Blake and the rest of your family and friends to really take it to heart. Because i surly did and i keep it in mind always.

"Missing someone gets easier everyday, Because even though you're one day further from the last time you saw them, You're one day closer to the next time you will."

I know its still hard to think it will get easier, but i know it will, because Grant I know you'll be here to help us all! I hope this quote might help a few people and lift their spirts maybe even for just a minute. Theres also just a song that has been amazing that truly reminds me of you Grant and how im sure everyone and I are feeling at this time. Its called "When I Look To The Sky" by Train.

*"When it rains it pours it opens doors
And floods the floors we thought would always keep us safe and dry
And in the midst of sailing ships we sink our lips into the ones we love
And have to say goodbye*

*And as I float along this ocean
I can feel you like a notion that wont seem to let me go*

*Cause when I look to the sky something tells me your here with me
And you make everything alright
And when i feel like im lost
Something tells me your here with me
And i could always find my way when you were here*

And every word i didnt say that got caught up in some busy day

*And every dance on the kitchen floor we didnt have before
And every sunset that we'll miss I'll wrap them all up in a kiss
And pick you up in all of this when i sail away*

*whether i am up or down or in or out or just plane overhead instead
It just feels like it is impossible to fly
But with you i can sprend my wings
Yo see me over everything that life might send me
When im hoping it wont pass me by*

*And when I feel like there is no one that will ever know me
there you are to show me*

*Cause when I look to the sky something tells me you're here with me
And you make everything alright
And when I feel like I'm lost Something tells me you're here with me
And I can always find my way when you are here."*

I just hope that the quote and song might help your family and friends to get through the rough times! Grant I love you and always will, dont forget that and dont forget me cause I will never ever forget you! I know i'll see you again when god sweeps me up and gives me my wings! And i hope that your the one waiting for all of us when the gates open for us! Sleep tight Grant, Goodnight!! I'll see you later Grant!

“ Hi baby, it's shauntae`. The time has passed by so slowly since you left and I never thought I could last this long but you've guided me this far and I know you will continue to guide me until I see your beautiful face again. There is not a moment that passes that I don't think of you. I would give anything and I mean anything just to see you once more.

I never thought that one person could love somebody as much as you loved me and I thank god everyday for the incredible time that I had with you. I love you more than I could ever express.

Your brother asked me what I would say to you if I could see you one more time and just as I told him and just as I am telling you again, I would get down on one knee and I would ask you to marry me. So just to let you know, I'm counting on you being at those pearly white gates with your tux on when I get there.

This pain seems unbearable and my heart feels crushed and unmendable but as long as I know that I will see you again, it will all be worth it.

I pray to God that he will never forget our love. The last thing that you said to me was "I love you and always will." Well baby, I make that promise to you too.

Please wait for me and never let go of our love.

I'll love you forever

I'll like you for always

As long as I'm living,

If you feel like leaving a message, feel free. There is no need to identify yourself if you feel as though you don't want to. “ Grant: thank you so much for realizing the good in me, for being there for me and asking me for help. the memories i hold of you will always be cherished. you stuck up for me when nobody else understood, and you told me things i needed to hear, you always knew the right things to say. anything i did for you was small compared to the things you did for me. even if you didnt realize it you made me feel important. and even if we werent in touch much in the last couple years, anytime i saw you i couldnt help but be overly excited, you've always put a smile on my face. im so happy we saw eachother and had a chance to talk before god took you away, because if i hadnt seen you right before i'd feel so guilty for not letting you know i care, but thankfully god has a way of letting people say goodbye even if they dont know they are. your smile will always keep a smile on my face, its hard to even be sad knowing you are smiling down on me. i would like to end with a quote from a song i find inspirational in this time of sadness:

and if you were with me tonight i'd sing to you just one more time a song for a heart so big god couldnt let it live may angels lead you in hear you me my friends
on sleepless roads the sleepless go may angles lead you in.

its a great song that helps relate to the sorrow at hand, and if music helps you, you should download it. (jimmy eat world, hear you me) i love you grant and will never forget you!

to the family: your son/brother was an amazing person who was selfless and cared for all. his smile was enough to make anyone happy and his graciousness was unparalleled. i am soo honored to be able to call grant my friend, thank you for helping him become the person he is.

“ Someone e-mailed this to me today. Grant I miss you.

Ask My Mommy

*Ask My Mommy how she is
My Mommy, she tells a lot of lies
She never did before.
From now until the day she dies.
She'll tell a whole lot more.*

*She used to tell the truth, a lot
But now it doesn't matter.
I died and went to heaven,
Her life is all a-shatter.*

*Ask my Mommy how she is.
She'll say, "Yes, I'm fine!"
She wants to beg "Please help me.
I can't find that boy of mine!"*

*Ask my Mommy, how is she,
She'll say, "I'm alright."
If that's the truth then tell me,
Why does she cry each night?*

*Ask my Mommy, how she is,
She seems to cope so well.
She didn't have a choice, you see,
Nor the strength to yell.*

*You think you know the feeling,
But this cannot be.
For even though you loved me,
You didn't love as much as she.*

She will smile and tell you,

*"It's o.k. God has a plan."
But she will turn away and cry
'Cause she just can't understand.*

*Tell a joke and she will laugh,
But she is not o.k.
She wants to share the joke with me,
But it will not be today.*

*I watch from here, in Heaven.
Her distress disturbs my peace.
Will someone please take care of her,
And thus take care of me?*

*"Some day you will feel better."
"Yes I will." she lies.
She knows this will not happen,
Until the day she dies.*

*"I was so lucky!
I had him all those years!"
(They passed in a minute,
I shed so many tears.)*

*Ask my Mommy how she is,
She'll say, "Thank you. Good."
She cannot tell you how she feels.
Oh, how I wish she could.*

*Ask my Mommmmy how she is,
"I'm fine, I'm well, I'm coping."
For God's sake, mom, just tell the truth
Just say your heart is broken.*

*Ask my Mommy how she is,
"I'm well, I'm good. And you?"
I'll shake my head in Heaven.*

It simply isn't true.

*She'll love me all her life.
I loved her all of mine.
But if you ask how she is,
She'll lie and say she's fine.*

*Her carnival is over.
She's stepped off the carousel.
But, to save you feeling badly,
She'll say, "Thanks, all is well."*

*My Mommy, she's not gone mad, yet.
But, oh so very nearly.
Don't ask my Mommy how she is,
Ask how is she, really.*

*I am here in Heaven.
I cannot hug from here.
If she lies to you, don't listen.
Hug her, hold her near.*

*On the day we meet again,
We'll smile and I'll be bold.
I'll say, "You're lucky to get in here, Mommy,
With all the lies you told!"*

“ This was sent to me by an unknown person.

Dear Mom and Dad,

I know this is a rough time for you. So I will be as gentle as I can be. First of all, thank you for so many tears, particularly those shared with another that you love. They are a gift to me, a precious tribute to your investment in me. As you do your mourning, do it at your pace only. Don't let anybody suggest that you do your grief work on their timetable. Do whatever it takes to face directly the reality of what has happened, even though you may need to pause frequently and yearn for my return. Do this with courage and my blessings. Know that sometimes inertia is the only movement possible.

Give your best to keeping a balance between remembering me and renewing your commitments to life. It's O.K. with me if you go through minutes, hours and even days not thinking about me. I know that you'll. never forget. Loosening me and grabbing hold of a new meaning is a delicate art. I'm not sure if one comes before the other or not, maybe it's a combination. Be with people who accept you as you are. Mention my name out loud, and if they don't make a hasty retreat, they're probably excellent candidates for friendship. If, by a remote possibility, you think that there is anything that you could have done for me and didn't. I forgive you, as my Lord does. Resentment does not abide here, only love. You know how people sometimes ask you how many children you have? Well, I'm still yours and you are still my parents. Always acknowledge that with tenderness, unless to do so would fall on insensitive ears or would be painful to you. I know how you feel inside. To be included as your child honours me.

Read, even though your tears anoint the page. There is an immense library here and I have a card. In Henri Nowens' "Out of Solitude", he writes, "The friend who can be silent with us in a moment of despair and confusion, who can stay with us in an hour of grief and bereavement, who can tolerate not healing, and face with us the reality of our powerlessness, that is a friend who cares." Mom and Dad, I don't know where you are spiritually now, but rest assured that our God is not gone. The still small voice you hear in your heart is His voice. The warmth that sometimes enfolds you is Him. The tears that tremble just beneath your heartbeat is Him. He is in you, as I am. I want you both to know that I am O.K.

I have sent you messages to ease your pain, they come in the form of flowers that bloom out of season, birds singing, voices and visions and sometimes through your friends and even strangers who volunteer as angels. Stay open but don't expect the overly dramatic. You will get what you need and it may be simply an internal peace. You are not crazy, you have been comforted. Please seek out people bereaved longer than you. They are tellers of truth, and if they have done their work, are an inspiration and a beacon of hope whose pain lessened dramatically and one more wisdom before I close. There are still funny happenings in our world. It delights me to no end when I hear your spontaneous, uncontrolled laughter. That, too, will come in due time. Today, I light a candle for you. Joined with your candle, let their light shine above the darkness.

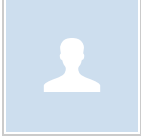

Affectionately, Your Angel child.

PS: I'll see you later.

“ This is the last time I'll be able to write you here. So here is a poem.

*To my dearest family, some things I'd like to say... but first of all, to let you know, that I arrived okay.
I'm writing this from Heaven. Here I dwell with God above.
Here, there's no more tears of sadness; there is just eternal love.*

*Please do not be unhappy just because I'm out of sight.
Remember that I'm with you every morning, noon, and night.
That day I had to leave you when my life on Earth was through.
God picked me up and hugged me and He said, "I welcome you".*

"It's good to have you back again; you were missed while you were gone.

*As for your dearest family, they'll be here later on.
I need you here badly; you're part of my plan.
There's so much that we have to do, to help our mortal man."*

*God gave me a list of things that he wished for me to do.
And foremost on the list, was to watch and care for you.
And when you lie in bed at night, the day's chores put to flight.
God and I are closest to you... in the middle of the night.*

*When you think of my life on Earth, and all those loving years because you are only human, they are bound to bring you tears.
But do not be afraid to cry, it does relieve the pain.
Remember there would be no flowers, unless there was some rain.*

*I wish that I could tell you all what God has planned.
But if I were to tell you, you wouldn't understand.
But one thing is for certain, though my life on Earth is over.
I'm closer to you now, than I ever was before.*

*There are many rocky roads ahead of you and many hills to climb, but together we can do it by taking one day at a time.
It was always my philosophy and I'd like it for you too...*

that as you give unto the World, the World will give to you.

*If you can help somebody who's in sorrow and pain,
then you can say to God at night... 'My day was not in vain'.
And now I am contented... that my life has been worthwhile,
Knowing as I passed along the way, I made somebody smile.*

*So if you meet somebody who is sad and feeling low,
just lend a hand to pick him up, as on your way you go.
When you're walking down the street, and you've got me on your mind,
I'm walking in your footsteps only half a step behind.*

And when it's time for you to go.. from that body to be free, remember you're not going... you're coming here to me.

I love you Grant as though you were still here and miss you all the time. Love you forever.

“ to my brother-

All the years i spent with you will never be enough. I would do anything to have just one more measly minute. You taught me so much about life that even the oldest man would only wish he could know. I am nothing but thankful for every moment that i was fortunate to spend with you and will never forget what you were, are and always will be.....brother. That title was filled above and beyond by you and others can only wish to have had one like you, and for that i am forever thankful. so many things that i wanted to do with you, teach you, share with you but all i can do is miss you to no end and remember the best brother that anyone could have ever asked for, but i never had to ask. You were the best and you didn't even have to try. someone asked me if there was anything that i would have changed between us if given the chance, after thinking about it for a while...my answer was no. if things were different between us we would not have been the duo that was us. we fought, competed,you copied me,we teased but when it was all said and done.....we were still brothers and i love you more then you will ever know. i hope you had an idea, but if you think you did...you have no idea. i will never forget you and you will always be a part of me. please watch over me and when it's my turn, make sure that i get a spot right there next to you. I LOVE YOU.

“ Grant,

Not one day will ever pass where I don't think about you. It's hard for me to grasp that this is real. I can't believe that you are really gone. I will forever cherish my memories of you, they will always stay very close to my heart. You were so loving, caring, and always willing to help. I will miss your smile and your big hugs. What saddens many of us the most is that you will not be here to share the future with us. Even though you may not be here in person, I know you will be here in spirit looking down from heaven. You and Blake are the best cousins I could ever imagine having. You both are like brothers to me. I am truly blessed to have gotten to grow up with you and to have had you as my cousin. You were such a beautiful person inside and out. I love you Grant.

“ He was truly a very special son and brother. I never knew the magnitude of people he had impacted. His unconditional love and friendship for people will continue to live through them. I am so thankful and appreciative of all the sharing of loving experiences his friends have shared with us. We never realized the power of his love for others. We will always cherish these pleasant memories forever, for they will give us strength in the future times when we will need “a lift”. I miss him so very much-it is a never-ending pain. “ We returned from springbreak today to learn that God took Grant home.

We first met Grant at Cahill Movies and he was with our friend Charlie.

He loved Jeff's truck and always questioned him on when was he going to sell it. He was so handsome, and something about him made us like him right away. Whenever I saw him driving around he would wave at me(Jane). Last thing I would like to leave your family with is this 1 Corinthians 15:51

Listen, I will tell you a mystery!

we will not all die, but we will all be changed, in a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, at the last trumpet. For the trumpet will sound and the dead will be raised imperishable, and we will be changed.

We will miss your smile and wave Grant.

“ To Grant's family and friends:

I feel like I must post something, one more time; I have to say that I constantly thinking about Grant, and it's been super hard on me. Grant was a wonderful man with such a great personality to him. Sleeping at night is still pretty hard for me, cause i'm still thinking about Grant...always. I can picture myself this summer walking around Centennial Lakes thinking about Grant, and how great of a guy he was. Tonight, I had the chance to meet up with Sean and Adam for pizza, and man...all we talked about was Grant and how great of a friend he really was to us, and everyone else he knew. He had such a kind heart towards everyone, and everything. I remember when everytime Grant came over, he loved to play with my dogs, more so than anyone currently does in the family, and it was just sort of crazy tonight when I got home from dinner with Sean and Adam, i saw my dog at the front door with a ball in it's mouth...crying to me, which usually never, ever happens. Even that reminded me Grant...it's almost as if my dog knows that Grant has gone to a better place, and wants to play one last time.

Grant is still in my every thought....everyday, every second, every where, no matter what. My condolences to his family and friends, once again. I figure I'd post in here one more time to remind everyone how: Wonderful, nice, great, caring, funny, laid back, unselfish, cool, Grant was. I am very sorry this had to happen.

In memorial of Grant, I am placing a candle on benton street that has the scent of maple syrup. Grant, for some reason always got breakfast @ perkins. No matter what time it was...it usually a breakfast meal.

*I love and miss you very much, buddy!
I hope you're doing well, now that you are in peace!!!*

*as Grant would always say to me:
"Peace, Noah P."*

*Your passing is the hardest thing i have ever delt with. I remember when we first met. 10th grade math and theater. I know we couldnt have gotten through it without eachother. when we found out we lived only 2 blocks from eachother, our freindship grew strong. I remember our many sleep overs, our nacho sessions, and the long talks we used to have in your drive way; drinkin mountain dew and talking about non sense. People always asked us if we were brothers, and before i could say anything, you would blurt out a confident "yes, were brothers". I would wait for you to say you were just kidding, but instead you followed with a detailed story of why we have different last names. Funny enough, you werent lying. I saw you as a big brother, and you looked out for me like a big brother. And you knew how, becuase you have a great older brother who i know you followed after. Like all friends, we had our fights, and you always would be the first to admitt you were wrong. Grant, i will forever miss you, i know you will continue to watch over me, and everyone else close to you.

“ Juan:

I remember the day that Grant was born and you called into the office to let us know. I answered the phone and you told me all the details. I remember when you told me his first and middle name GRANT TYLER MEDELLIN. I remember saying to you Blake Cody then Grant Tyler, they sound like names for U.S. Presidents. I know you have done your best, fought a hard fight, and gave both sons all the wisdom and love you could give, Ruth offered a loving home and a motherly environment that both Blake and Grant could ever have. Between the two of you they have the opportunity to live life with great direction for the future. Grant had a loving and giving heart that the two of you have to be proud of. What a terrific young man who left this earth too soon, but left his mark upon the young people/friends that he came in contact with, who will take a piece of Grant with them as THEY make their journey through life. “ My sincerest, deepest sympathy for your loss. Many a tear has been shed since hearing of Grant's untimely passing. My heart goes out to you and yours. Grant had grown into such a pleasure to visit with... respectful, very kind, well-grounded, gracious and mature.

I had teased him about the caps he wore backwards: The bill being straight. I will never see a baseball cap worn in that manner again without thinking of dear Grant. Nor will I ever see a young man his age with an oversized white shirt and big blue jeans without thinking of Grant.

To Grant: How I wish that I had taken the time to give you a cruise in the 'vette. We live and we learn - I'm so sorry it's too late. You are a stark reminder of every person's mortality, sadly. Know you are missed and have left an imprint on many people's lives and hearts. Your passing, sweet Grant, will teach many to express their love for those they care for as we never know when it will be the last opportunity to do so. I am just so very, very sorry you will be a catalyst for that realization. May the force be with you, Grant.

“ I must say that I am stunned, and shocked by this tragedy. Grant was a friend of mine, who I met leaving Edina High School for Perpich Center of Arts Education. I pretty much lost contact with most of my Edina friends that summer, except for Grant...who only became a better friend of mine. I can't recall how many nice things he did for me over that summer...and all the good times we had in those three short months. I remember days where we would just kick back at my house and swim...then play video games, then walk around centennial lakes. Some of those summer nights were uneventful, but they were always with you, no matter what. Talking about life with Grant was just cool, cause he had such a laid back view of things on life, which is rarity among my new set of friends..and Grant was always up for anything, he wasn't too picky about what he wantd to do with the day. I still have the text message from 2 summers ago saying "dude, i got my license"...man, all trips down memory lane for me right now. My girlfriend, Natalie, wanted to go to Chi's Chi's tonight for dinner, I said "No" because this was the first place Grant, Sean, Adan, Steve, and myself went out to eat. It would have just been too hard on me. There are too many good things about you that I could post in here, but I think that would probably take up a couple pages. Grant, I really miss you buddy...It's been really hard sleeping these past couple of nights, thinking to myself "man, I wish Grant was still here". Grant, I'm sorry I lost contact with you when I started up my education over @ the arts highschool...I'm glad I got to see you one last time @ Sean's graduation party. The one thing I remember of that party was you telling me how muched you loved your girlfriend. Shauntee (I'm really sorry If I spelled your name wrong), but Grant sounded like he really loved you. That's all he talked about with me. My condolences go to Grant's family. I am very sorry for this...please keep in touch with me.

“ I was deeply saddened to hear about your tragic loss. I had the pleasure of getting to know Grant and his wonderful personality. I will miss his smile most of all, it always brightened my day. Grant was a very special and unique person. He had a genuine personality that made everyone feel welcomed. Grant will always have a special place in my heart. He will be greatly missed by all.

“ The Medellin Family,

I am so sorry for your loss. When I found out, I was shocked and deeply saddened. I graduated from EHS with Blake and I had the pleasure of being in the company of both Medellin brothers many a times. He was such a vibrant and compassionate person. My little sister, Annie, was friends with Grant and never had enough good things to say about him. I can't imagine what you are going through; you are in my thoughts and prayers. Grant will be sincerely missed by all that were lucky enough to meet him.

Sincerely,

“ Grant was a friend in the finest sense of the word. It was his commitment that made this apparent. He was always there when somebody needed a ride, or just some company; however, it wasn't the commitments that he made that detailed him as a person, but it was the follow through of his word that proved his genuine character. I think Grant touched and befriended more people than I will ever know in my life, and I'm glad that I had the honor and privilege to be one of them. Words cannot express the loss, only tears. He will be missed and loved by all.

With Love,

“ I was stunned yesterday when Blake called me with this tragic news. Both Blake and Grant were very supportive of me during the time my best friend struggled with cancer. Grant could make me laugh even on days when that seemed so hard. I will always remember that about him. Death seems so unfair. My sincerest sympathy to the family and many friends who loved Grant.
