“ Words cannot fully express how lucky so many of us have been for knowing Gregg, he was our mentor, our coach and our very dear friend. We consider ourselves to be the lucky ones and we know we have become better people because of the time he took to spent with us, the stories he told, the lessons we learned and the great friendship we shared.

Gregg you will be missed, but you will never be forgotten. Rest in peace my friend

“ My heartfelt condolences to all who knew and loved Gregg, especially his family and close friends.

I was so fortunate to have been one of the many under his wings as we explored new adventures around the world. In these years, Gregg regaled us with so many stories from his diverse past experiences while seamlessly weaving in lessons and advise for us to take home and ponder. The one thing that stood out in all of this mentoring, leadership, partnership, and fun, was that he never forgot to remind us of how important family is to us. No matter where he was, you were always with him.

“ Gregg was one of those who truly touch the people they know. He was a boss, a mentor, and a friend. He had strong values and no time for egos and self-promotion. He knew there was no limit to what anyone could do. I have a lifetime of stories from a decade of working together. There was Amsterdam, Athens, Bilbao, Budapest, Dublin, Istanbul, Jakarta, Leeds, London, Manchester, Monte Carlo, Moscow, New York, Paris, Prague, and Strasbourg. Godspeed Gregg.
