“ I got to know Greg well since his office at the MPCA was directly across from my pod. He was always so upbeat and we never talked about work. Instead we talked about music, the outdoors, family, etc. Even when we talked about prostate cancer, which we both had, he was upbeat. I bumped into Greg a couple times after he retired and he was the same upbeat person, even though I knew he was battling health issues. He was one of those people who helped me not take things too serious and instead enjoy what life had to offer.

“ I had the pleasure of working with Greg at the Pollution Control Agency. He was very smart, very knowledgable, and able to see many aspects of a problem or a situation. Conversations with him were both informative and enjoyable.

“ Sorry to see Greg's obit in today's Strib. He was a marvellous husband and father, to be sure; he was so very supportive of all of Carol's interests and hobbies. I will always picture him Morris dancing -- so joyful! May his memory be for a blessing.

“ I worked with Greg for many years and was lucky to visit with him a couple of times since we both retired. I'm sad that he has passed. He always seemed to enjoy life so much that it was infectious, and we always found something interesting to share in the coffee room. I feel lucky to have known him.

“ Greg was a friendly coworker, not just a supervisor, willing to talk to anyone like me who might need help from a different program than where I was at MPCA. I remember Greg well and wish his family happy memories.

“ So sad to hear the bad news. I first worked with Greg back in the 1970's and always respected his engineering knowledge and professionalism as well as his sense of humor. He was a pleasure to work with all those years at the MPCA. We also enjoyed many canoe and fishing trips in the Boundary Waters. My family has fond memories of the time Greg, Carol and his children all packed our gear and spent a week backpacking in the Wind River Range of Wyoming. Carol and family our thoughts are with you all.

“ I worked with Greg at the MN Pollution Control Agency. He was an ambassador for the environment using his engineering training to help set effluent limits. He also championed biological monitoring as a sentinel monitoring tool to determine impairment status. He was a joy to work with and an honor to work with him. My best wishes to his family.

“ I'm so sorry to hear about Greg's passing. Greg hired me at the MPCA 14 years ago - a job that I love. I now supervise his old unit. He was a great supervisor with a calm demeanor and good sense of humor. Greg was a class act, and I'm so fortunate to have crossed paths with him.

“ Very sad to hear about Greg's passing. I worked with Greg at the MPCA and always found Greg with a positive attitude, a big smile and great sense of humor. He was a strong advocate for the environment and had a great technical mind. He was also one of the best dressed guys at the Agency:) Condolences to the family.

“ I worked with Greg at MPCA. He was the consummate professional with a friendly demeanor. I had a great liking and respect for Greg. He was nice enough to attend my retirement party giving me a nice bottle of champagne with the note "retirement should be celebrated with a toast and good champagne". Typical Greg - thoughtful. My sympathy for your loss of a fine man.
