“ When my boys and I first moved to Maplewood, Kathy and Greg immediately took us under their wings. We fell into an easy friend family as fellow determined environmentalists and community minded neighbors, They made us feel loved and at home.

I am so thankful for Kathy and Greg and their puppy companions. Greg would go on walks and would stop and talk to everyone! He honestly cared about how everyone was doing. He used to check on me often on his walks and we would get to talking and soon hours would have passed. It would frequently become late and he would ask me to call Kathy and let her know he was on his way home. It happened so often, it became an inside joke that will always make me laugh.

He cared so much that when things were more difficult to remember, he still would find his way to come check on me.

I feel like they adopted me as their neighborhood daughter. I am cared about and better for having them in my life. Greg would regularly stop by to make sure I had a landline for 911 purposes, my doors were secure and locked, if I was ok (if he hadn't seen me for a couple of days), or even if I had forgotten to close my garage door. He was always worried about me and our wellbeing.

Greg - Thank you for the memorable conversations and the real and consistent love you have shown. I miss you wholeheartedly.

“ Greg was one of only a few who truly enjoyed doorknocking with me. He heartily sang my praises at each door and was always up for more. He was also the only partner I ever had who drank all the water I brought to drink during our shift. I loved seeing him at the Capitol, where he brightened my day. He was always there for some good environmental cause.
