“ *I was curious where he was, so I googled him.
He was my leader after I resigned my commission.
I still, to this day (said it just the other day), "You are not the sharpest knife in the kitchen drawer"... which is what he said to us when we messed up.
I really found him extremely dedicated and... a wry sense of humor.
I liked him. I found him... fun to be around, but very very serious about work.
I am very sorry he passed. He was a good person.*
