“ My son, LCpl Jason E Smith served under Greg. They both had a very good relationship, like brothers. Jason was killed in Iraq on Dec. 31, 2004. Greg came out to visit us when we lived in Phoenix after he got back to Camp Pendleton. He was on his way home to Minnesota. He talked about Jason and we laughed and cried together. I am very sorry to hear about his death. Let us know if you would like to talk. I love hearing stories about Jason's friends from Charlie Company.

“ I am just hearing of your lose and my DEEPEST sympathies go out to you and your family. I had the greatest opportunity of a life time to work hand in hand with Greg here in Kuwait doing what we both loved to do and that was to make sure our MARINES got the best piece of equipment we could give them. His love for his fellow Marine and his country will alway's be etched in my heart. Greg my brother you will alway's be with me. Semper-Fi

“ There is nothing I could say that could ease your pain right now. Me and Greg were really good buddies, he only lived a couple miles from me so we were always visiting each other. He would come over a lot and eat with me and my wife and kids, my kids loved him and miss him very much as well as all the dogs, he loved hanging out on my porch and just taking it easy. I can't tell you in words what he ment to me, he was always there to help me when I was sick and would come set with me at the hospital. I miss him so bad right now, but I know it's nothing like your family are going through. Just know he was loved here a brother to all and a true Marine. Jeff Callahan and family
