November 30, 2013

Schloo, Harold A.

Age 70, of Bloomington passed away November 30, 2013. Preceded in death by father Allen. Harold was born in Austin and grew up on a farm east of town. Harold joined the Navy in 1961 after graduating from Elkton High School. During his four years of service, he participated in the quarantine of Cuba known as the Cuban Missile Crisis. Harold began working as a service technician for Sears in 1967 and retired after 40 years of dedicated service. A natural Mr. Fix-it, he loved to help friends and family with repair and improvement projects, drawing on his vast knowledge of all things mechanical. Harold enjoyed spending time with his grandchildren, feeding and watching the birds, playing cards and socializing with friends and family, and taking daily walks at the Mall of America, along Nine Mile Creek, or through the neighborhood with his wife, Susie. In his retirement he discovered the great joy of reading literature and in his last year even learned to square dance, a gift to Susie. Harold was loved by all and will be deeply missed. “ *Su,
My thoughts and prayers will be with you as you grieve the loss of the love of your life. I read about this in the paper this morning. Just reading about it brought back some great memories that I have about our friendship in college. Wishing for you and yours all the best in the coming season.*

*Blessings,

Jim, thank you for taking the time to write this. Something would remind me of you now and again over the years, and I have often wondered where you were and how you were doing. It was so thoughtful of you to write at this time. Hope you are well happy. Su
