“ I never knew Heather when she didn't have a smile on her face. And you always found yourself smiling back in her presence. Heather was an exceptional ambassador for the Minnesota Twins and Minnesota Wild. Though her time with us was far too short, Heather's impact on family, friends, fans and co-workers was a game-winning. Her light touched so many and will continue to shine in our memories.

“Heather was a colleague and friend during my time with the Minnesota Wild. She was known around the arena for her unwavering work ethic as she was often one of first to arrive and the last to leave on an event night. She always did so with a smile that could brighten even the longest day. We shared countless late nights, early mornings, and moments of laughter that will forever be treasured. She had an incredible knack for being prepared for anything; whether you needed something practical or completely obscure, she'd likely pull it from an absolutely adorable little container tucked in her purse of wonders. Her contagious smile, kind spirit, and generous heart will be missed deeply by all who had the privilege of knowing her.

“Heather was an incredible coworker and an even better friend. She lit up every room she walked into, unlike anyone I've ever met. I looked up to her and learned so much from her about service and hard work, not just through words, but through her actions. She led by example. Her absence will be deeply felt, and I will miss her dearly. She was one of a kind.

I remember how you worked on the Castle for the Village Pops Concert...all of those pieces of cardboard cut out and then covered in tin foil. There had to be about 40 pieces if not more. You were so meticulous with that display and so proud of it. Then you high school graduation party prep...I think I was your house for about 50 hours that week.

You always had smile, even when I know things were a mess. Know that were so loved by so many people.

The Minnesota Twins had a moment of silence in your honor.
