“ To all the Rydlands, Please accept my deepest sympathy on the loss of your beloved mother. Throughout my childhood and teen years, Helen was like a second mother to me. I greatly loved and admired her. Though we moved away when I was just 18, my happiest memories are of the wonderful family that lived next door and the beautiful mother that was always kind, caring, compassionate and fun! She raised nine fantastic children and has now gone to her heavenly reward to be with her beloved husband. She will never be forgotten. God bless you all. With deepest sympathy,

“ Dear Helen, I want to thank you for the wonderful times we spent together with Judy, Nancy and the Gustie roommates. I can still remember the warmth and love I felt each time I stepped into your home in Golden Valley. You and Arne are now wrapped in that love that you created here on earth and are watching hand in hand over the wonderful legacy you have left us in your children and their families. You both must be so proud. Thank you for touching my life. I will miss you.

“ Dear Rydland family, I extend my deepest sympathy on the loss of your dear mother. I will always remember Helen as a kind, loving, truly joyful woman. As a child, she made me feel so welcome in your home. Helen was a person who knew what was important in life - family. Her children are a testimony to what a wonderful mother she was. My mother always said that regardless of how many years separated Helen and her, a warm friendship was instantly rekindled when they reunited. I can't help but smile when I think that they are again rekindling an eternal friendship. You are lovingly in my thoughts and prayers.
