“ Dear, sweet, funny, and so loveable, Jackie was my mother's only sister and they adored each other, even though they were 11 years apart in age. Jackie is my aunt and godmother and for many years our families lived on the same block, just a few houses apart in St. Paul. Oh the fun we had! Trips to the beach with our good friends, the Fernalds, where we'd pile into cars with picnic lunches. Holidays with delicious foods and treats, and singing around the piano while Jackie played Christmas carols, show tunes, and her favorite music from the 40's! She took me to my first "fancy" lunch at Dayton's River Room and always had time to listen to me and talk with me - she was like another mother to me; a confidant and loving friend. I will miss her so, but will always have good memories of our time together. And oh, what a reunion in heaven! I can just imagine the hugs, smiles, and greetings from so many who have gone before. Rest in peace until we meet again, dear one.

“ Good-night! good-night! she said just after midnight. Her earthly days are no more, and shall no more happy "good mornings" return. She turned off the lamp and went to bed. May she rest in peace.
