“ Bob Montague

Just learned of Gunner's death. We we're backyard neighbors in the old days, separated only by the Noises. I remember playing football on the boulevard, among other games. I remember those days well and think of,them often. My condolences to Jim's family. They we're like extended family.

“ As I looked at my first posting I see that my fat fingers and/or the auto correct on my phone caused me to make a couple of typos. First, there were Thorndale kids, not Thermals. And the "Swamp" divided the two neighborhoods not decided them. Missy Mac made me make those corrections. Or was it Mr. Gleeson?

The Hill Gang kids played together just about every day. Our favorite summer activity was playing "men". It didn't matter if we used army men or cowboy and indian men. What did matter was that we had lots of DIRT. Jimmy was a frequent guest at Maple Lake. Water activities with Johnnie, Mary Sue, Bev, Dino, etc. And the birthday parties. What fun! Winter fun in the snow was the best. We used to have snow drifts that were way over our heads. Some would go all the way across Memorial Drive from our house to the Campbells and the Mooses. (Oh the Mooses - that's a story for another time) We would build the very best snow forts and tunnels. They just don't make snow storms like they used to.

“ Jim and I were official members of the "Hill Gang" in Crookston. That of coarse was as opposed to "Fertile Valley" or the Thermals kids. The two areas were decided by the "Swamp". The class of 64 Hill Gang were made up of Jimmy, Jeff, Johnnie and me, Jackie. Wonderful memories! Jeffy died 9 years ago on January 24th.

“ Jim and I have been childhood friends, I spent time at his house when my parents went to see my brother John and he played with John many times. I remember one time while at his house his mom-Rosie made bread [ my mom never did, so this was a treat] she called us into the house for bread, butter & sugar sandwiches, they were the best. I will never forget that. He would come over to our house and watch Cowboy & Indian show's on TV few people had them but we did, we would play ping-pong games, shuffleboard. In the summer Jim would come out to Maple Lake for birthday parties and fun times with Jack, Bev, Dyno John & myself just to name a few friends. We grew up and went our seperate ways. Each getting married and having a family. We still saw each other but not as much. Their are many other stories of fun times, sad times trouble times but I just want to let you know that Jim was a great friend and it's sad to know I won't see him again. Maybe in another life we will meet again.
