“ Years ago my Aunt Gertie was ill and I worried that no-one was visiting her. At her shiva I met Estie and Jim and learned that they had been visiting her regularly the whole month of her illness. I will always be grateful for their kindness and generosity. People like Jim and Estie make the world a better place.

“ Ten years ago, Jim led Shiva at the Adath for my husband one day. During the service he told us that in Judaism when a soul reaches God he is asked one question only: How have you served those in need. I'm sure that God will be pleased with Jerry's answer. That remains one of the most comforting things I remember during that painful time for me
