Dear Dwane, my brother, mentor and teacher. My heart is broken knowing that I won't be able to see you and hug you for now. But we will all be together soon. Thank you for all you taught me in my life. You were my idol who could fix anything and do anything you put your mind to. You were a perfectionist in all you did and it showed. Your finish carpentry work was exemplary. You are the reason I have always tried to follow in your footsteps, but I could never live up to you. Anytime I needed help with something you were always there. In your later years you always got me and Lisa's names mixed up, LOL. I will miss you deeply and you will always be in my heart. You were always loved. I know you are in heaven with the rest of the family probably dancing with mom and fixing things for dad with Dale. Until we meet again, your loving "sis" as you always called me.

“ 9 yrs ago when he walked into my 50th birthday party. It meant the world to me as he is my dad's twin. He made me feel that besides him being there apart of my dad was also.

When I was younger our family was always over and dwane and yonnes house and he always made you laugh so hard you ended up crying and laughing so hard your stomach hurt.

He taught me to love ketchup on my baked beans.

I will miss Uncle Dwane and his goofiness.

Love you with all my heart Uncle Dwane.

I'm so sorry to hear about Dwane's passing, and it instantly transported me to 1968 when I entered the Helfenstein family. Dwane and Yonne treated me like family from the start. Lisa, I must have irritated your Mom because I use to walk over to your little apartment just to hold you right after you were born. Then you moved to Blaine and I didn't get to see you so much. I do remember that I stayed at that house for a few days while Mom was in the hospital. Your Dad was reroofing the house and Dwane Jr. Who followed his Dad everywhere somehow escaped out the door (even with a butter knife wedged in the frame)and with only a diaper and big boots on, climbed the ladder and ran over to his Dad to help. I have many fun stories, I will always remember that your Dad loved his kids and always had a smile on his face. I never heard him angry and most times he was laughing about something. I'm sure he will be greatly missed by everyone of his family and all of those who were blest to have called him Friend. Love, Aunt Patty
