December 20, 1944 - March 2, 2026

Jane Louise Hilary Obituary Brooklyn Park, Mn - Jane was never one to accept the societal norms placed on women of her time. A modern day self reliant trailblazer of what a woman could accomplish, Jane excelled at whatever she chose to do. She did not believe in the phrase, "man of the house". She was the original do it yourself home improvement handy woman before DIY was even a thing.

Jane attended a predominantly male law school at the University of Minnesota in the 1970's before eventually accepting a job in Human Resources. Upon retirement from Cargill, she took up woodworking and built herself a professional wood shop where she mastered furniture making and created beautiful vessels out of chunks of wood on her lathe.

Jane was also a passionate world traveler leaving behind several full passports of memories of the sixty six countries she visited.

Jane, a devoted dog owner, would like donations to be made to the Golden Valley Humane Society in her honor in lieu of a service.
